Burglars Strike Marin Medical, Dental Offices

Drugs were stolen from medical and dental offices in Mill Valley and San Rafael during the weekend, apparently by two burglars working independently of each other.

The haul in Mill Valley included a physician's medical bag, complete with narcotics and hypodermic needles. That in San Rafael was limited to stimulant and pain killer drugs and a hypodermic.

The Mill Valley burglar used a glass cutter to remove a pane from the window of the office of Dr. Martin H. Long Jr. internist and heart specialist, in a medical-dental building at 61 Camino Alto. From there, he pried a door with a pry bar to enter the adjoining office of Dr. T. G. Brown, a pediatrician.

He took Dr. Long's medical bag, $35 in cash, and some drugs from Dr. Brown's office.

Then he added vandalism to theft, tearing pictures and checks and strewing them over the floor.

The burglary was discovered when a janitor arrived to clean the offices about 10 a.m. yesterday.

The San Rafael burglar used a 12-inch long spike, tapered to a point, to break a window in the office suite of Dr. Sam Hanzel, nerve surgeon, and Dr. Richard S. Han, chest surgeon, in a medical-dental building at 600 Mission Avenue.

Apparently looking for narcotics, and finding none there, he pried open a store room door with the spike—which he left behind on the floor. He then ransacked the office of Dr. Jack L. Rosenberg, dentist, in the same building.

Lot consisted of small amounts of caffeine sodium, a stimulant, and Demerol, a pain killer, plus a hypodermic needle, police said.

The San Rafael break-in was discovered at 5:15 p.m. yesterday by Irene Monroe, receptionist for Dr. Rosenberg. She said his office had been check-

BLIND CHILDREN MEET THEIR FUTURE 'EYES'

About 40 sightless teen-agers from Enchanted Hills Camp for the Blind in Napa County visited Guide Dogs for the Blind in San Rafael today to meet the puppies that may someday be their guide dogs. Among them were Marianne Dole, 14 (left), who will enter Guide Dogs next Sunday for schooling with a dog, and Garry Brunel, 13 (right). The dog in foreground is Nicky, 13-month-old German shepherd trained and ready to become the "eyes" for Marianne or another new enrolee at the San Rafael school. (Independent-Journal photo)

Anti-Missile Can Hit Fly In Space, Nikita Boasts

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev boasted today Russia has an anti-missile missile so accurate that it "hits a fly in outer space."

In an interview with 12 visiting American newspaper editors, the premier claimed, however, that no anti-rocket weapons could stop the Soviet Union's own "global rocket."

The soviet premier also bluntly indicated Russia's intention to stage another nuclear test series after the current American tests are completed.

Similarly, he renewed Soviet pressure for the ouster of allied forces from West Berlin and his threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

"When shall we do it," he asked. "We shall not hurry, but neither shall we tarry. I will not set any time limit."

The American newsmen met a sometimes affable, sometimes sharpspoken Khrushchev for two and a half hours Friday. But the official text of the interview was released here only today.

Khrushchev's claim of a pinpoint accurate anti-missile missile came in a sharp retort to Felix McKnight, executive editor of the Dallas Times-Herald, who had reminded Khrushchev the much-criticized American high-altitude atom tests were designed to perfect U. S. defenses against such things as Soviet global rockets.

"I am not boasting but we actually have a global rocket which cannot be destroyed by any anti-rocket means, and I know, if anybody does, what what anti-rocket means are, because we do have them," Khrushchev said.

He said it had been planned to show delegates to the just-completed "world congress for general disarmament and peace" in Moscow movies of an anti-rocket in action.

"But when I talked with

Soviets Reject Berlin Talks Plea

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today rejected a U.S.-British-French proposal that four-power talks be convened in Berlin to ease tension over shootings along the wall dividing the city.

"Such a proposal cannot but evoke surprise," said a note to the United States.

"If the U.S. government advances its proposal with a view to interfering in the home affairs of the sovereign and independent German Democratic Republic.

East Germany, the Soviet government regards this question in general not subject to discussion either on a four-power or any other basis," the note added.

Tass news agency said similar replies went to Britain and France.

The three Allied powers proposed to Russia on June 25 that four-power discussions be held in Berlin after a series of shooting incidents across the Communist wall had injected new danger into the divided city's life.

The idea was that American, British, French and Soviet commandants should meet "with a view to avoiding, by all appropriate methods, the recurrence of such incidents, in particular by seeking means to facilitate the movement of persons and goods inside Berlin."

The Allied governments blamed the East German Communist regime for the shootings which, they said, began only when the wall was built in August, 1961.

The Soviet reply rejected this interpretation.

CALIFORNIA POPULATION TOPS 17-MILLION MARK

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—California topped the 17-million mark in population on July 1, after gaining 641,000 persons in the previous 12 months, the state department of finance reported today.

The department estimated July 1 population at 17,094,000 persons, and growing at the rate of more than one person a minute—or nearly 1,760 persons a day.

The state's phenomenal growth of 1,377,000 since the April, 1960, federal census means that California accounted for one-fifth of the population increase for the entire United States during that period of two years and three months.

The department estimated population in California would gain another 594,000 to total 17,688,000 by July 1 of 1963.

Children Are Blamed For Weekend Fires

Four children, aged 8 to 12, set fire to a vacant barn on Center Road in Novato Saturday, Novato firemen reported.

The children found cans of paint, gasoline, and horses liniment in a tack room of the barn, poured some of the contents on a bale of hay and touched a match to it, Asst. Fire Chief C. R. Hale said.

Novato firemen, responding quickly to an alarm at 3:30 p.m., held damage to the rear section of the building, where the interior was charred.

Children playing with matches were believed responsible for one of nine grass and brush fires in Marin over the weekend.

The fire burned only a 20-by-20 foot area on College of Marin's campus yesterday afternoon. Kentfield firemen reported children were seen at the start of the fire.

Two fires broke out Saturday on the eastern slopes of Angel Island, burning grass and woods.

The first started about 9 a.m. and burned two hours before being controlled.

A Marin County fire truck was loaded aboard an Army barge and ferried to the island, but by the time it arrived the fire was under control. The park rangers from Hospital Cove, an Army fire fighting crew stationed on the island, and a company of Marines from Treasure Island who were on weekend anti-guerilla maneuvers halted the blaze.

The second fire broke out late in the afternoon, also on Army property, and was controlled by nightfall.

Largest of the series of grass fired burned about three acres yesterday afternoon in the Hill Haven area at the top of Ridge Road, Tiburon. Its cause was not learned.

Cigarettes were blamed for a fire that swept a quarter-acre of grass at Lawson's Landing, Dillon Beach, starting at 1:45 p.m. Saturday, and a small fire at the rear of Star Hall at the end of San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo, that was reported at 3:07 p.m. yesterday. Both blazes were put out by the Marin County Fire Department.

Grass fires broke out simultaneously at 5 p.m. at 1040 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow, and 206 Marin Street, San Rafael. They were held to small areas by the San Anselmo and San Rafael Fire Departments.

A 13-by-13 foot area of dry grass behind Santa's Toys at 419 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, burned at 7:45 p.m. yesterday.

Supervisors Take Off— No Protests

Marin County supervisors were able to enjoy a brief holiday today from their task as an assessment appeal board because objections to county assessments have been coming in so slowly that nothing was ready to be heard.

But a short rush late Friday raised the total of appeals to 31, and four more arriving at about 10:30 a.m. today boosted the total to 35. At this time last year there were 50 appeals, and the year before saw 61 for a comparable period.

Next hearings of the supervisors as a board of equalization are scheduled for 9 a.m. Wednesday, following tomorrow's usual weekly session on supervisorial affairs. Last hearings will take place next Monday. Deadline for filing appeals is 5 p.m. Friday.

TRAFFIC SETS RECORD AGAIN ON GATE SPAN

Traffic crossing the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday set a new all-time record with 79,886 vehicles counted for the 24-hour period.

The previous high was 78,546 vehicles on July 16, 1961.

Bridge officials said the record number of vehicles flowed across the bridge smoothly despite temporary traffic controls on the north end in connection with construction of widened approaches in Marin County.

It's Nyet Once More As Geneva Talks Open

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union today rejected a Western proposal on inspection of nuclear tests, blocking chances of an East-West compromise on the issue.

Hopes for agreement were dashed in the first session of the 17-nation disarmament conference after a one-month recess.

The United States and Britain proposed that previous Western demands for control posts on Soviet territory be abandoned in exchange for the Russians' acceptance of compulsory inspection of their nuclear test sites to make sure the test ban was enforced.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin rejected this and proposed in its place acceptance of the eight neutral nations' plan for controlling the test ban.

Western sources said that while they welcome any movement on the part of the Russians, Zorin's proposals "do not deal with basic difference and are therefore no major concession on the Soviet part."

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean urged the Russians to submit "substantially revised" proposals to the conference "based on a reasonable degree of realism."

Western sources said the Soviets, in accepting the neutral nations' plan last April, interpreted it to suit their own ends.

Zorin said in reply to the Western proposal that the Russians will not budge from their position that only national control systems can police a nuclear test ban.

Sonoma-Marin Fair Has High Attendance

Officials of the Sonoma-Marin Fourth District Fair in Petaluma said today they are sure that total attendance at the four-day event was the highest in history.

Attendance figures were being totaled following the fair's closing yesterday.

Saturday's crowd of 11,361 was an all-time high for Saturday, and a spokesman said yesterday's attendance was "very good."

Patronage of the barbecued chicken dinner was so heavy that the supply of chicken was exhausted and more had to be brought in.

Crowds lined the mile-long route from downtown Petaluma to the fairgrounds to watch the parade at 12:30 p.m. yesterday. Rodeo attendance Saturday night was greater than the combined figure for two days last year.

Powell House Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The office of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, (D-N.Y.), said today his new beach home outside San Juan, Puerto Rico, was attacked by a mob early today. Powell's wife and her 6-week-old child were alone in the house. They were not injured.

Greenborough First Section Is Approved

The Marin County Planning Commission today approved the master plan and first 500-home unit of the vast Greenborough development northwest of Novato.

Unanimous approval of the 1,943-acre planned community was given by the commission subject to three conditions:

1. The name of the new community will have to be changed to prevent confusion with Greenbrae. Change of name was asked by the San Rafael postmaster, Novato Planning Commission, and county planning staff.

2. No more than 500 dwellings shall be built until an access road from Highway 101 is assured. This condition may be altered after discussion between the subdivider and the county as to who should obtain right-of-way.

3. With one exception, all service stations in the development shall be located in the area's proposed shopping center.

The master plan for the community, as developed by Daniel P. Coleman, San Rafael engineer, will include nearly 2,000 homes and duplexes, 1,000 apartments, a high school, elementary schools and churches.

Crash In Oakland Sinks Cruiser

OAKLAND (AP) — A barge loaded with sand crashed into two cabin cruisers and into a pier at Jack London Square today.

One cruiser, Friendship IV, valued at about $11,000, sank. The other, the J. A. Lee Starr, was battered but remained afloat.

A dock for six small boats was splintered as the barge tore through it and rammed into the pier of the Sea Wolf restaurant at the foot of Broadway.

The observation platform at the end of the pier was sheared off and the barge halted within a few feet of the restaurant's picture window.

The Coast Guard said the barge, Modoc, was being towed by the tug Solano.

49 Die In Three Viet Air Crashes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —A Vietnamese air force transport crashed on take off 260 miles northeast of Saigon today, killing 23 of the 27 persons aboard, including a U.S. Air Force instructor.

It was the third crash in South Viet Nam within 24 hours. Four U.S. servicemen and 22 Vietnamese died and five American and two Vietnamese were missing in the other two crashes.

U.S. authorities said the twin-engine Vietnamese C-47 crashed when the left engine caught fire as it was taking off from Kontum. The pilot tried unsuccessfully to return to the field.

Other information about the crash was not yet available in Saigon.

Two U.S. Army officers and an enlisted man perished aboard a U.S. Army helicopter shot down yesterday by Communist guerrilla gunfire near the Laotian border. One U.S. officer survived the crash virtually unhurt and an enlisted man was still missing along with two Vietnamese military men.

An air search was under way over a wide area northeast of Saigon for a U.S. Army transport which crashed last night with four American crewmen aboard.

Ground searchers found the bodies of the Americans aboard the helicopter, which crashed in mountainous jungle while on a supply mission in Kontum Province about 20 miles below the Laotian border.

The only known survivor, an American Army captain, was found walking through the brush about five miles south of the crash. He suffered only bruises.

The search continued for those still missing.

The confirmed deaths brought to 10 the number of U. S. servicemen killed in operations against the Viet Cong since the United States stepped up its assistance and training program last December.

Eyewitnesses in an accompanying helicopter said the big H-21 was hit by gunfire and crashed in thick jungle. Thick woods prevented the second craft from landing.

It was the first helicopter reported shot down by the Communists since December. Communist guns frequently score hits on helicopters flying supplies and Vietnamese troops to the front, but the crews have been able to make repairs and return to base.

U.S. authorities said the plane presumably crashed on what was described as a maintenance support mission from Saigon to the town of Ban Me Thuot, 160 miles northeast of here.

It was the third transport to crash in South Viet Nam since December.

A third search was under way in neighboring Laos for a light twin-engine plane missing since Saturday with two Americans aboard.

The plane's owners said it carried an American pilot and a member of the U.S. Military Assistance Advicory Group on a flight from Vientiane to Paksane, 65 miles eastward.

In all three air incidents, names of the Americans were withheld.

U.S. To Try To Inflate Space Sphere

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The eastern United States may receive a brilliant predawn show Wednesday when the space agency attempts to inflate a giant space sphere nearly 1,000 miles above the Atlantic ocean.

Officials hope those up early enough to witness the inflation will have better viewing than on a similar launching last Jan. 15, when one of the big spheres ripped to shreds two seconds after it expanded to its full 135-foot diameter.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that Wednesday is the earliest possible launch date. The rays of the rising sun will reflect off the aluminum-coated ball and it should appear as a bright star moving across the southern sky.

Purpose of the experiment is to test techniques for launching an advanced Echo communications satellite later this year.

The Thor booster is to free the balloon—dubbed Big Shot —at an altitude of 230 miles. The ball, folded neatly in a canister on launching, is to inflate and drift to an altitude of 950 miles before plummeting back to burn up in the earth's atmosphere some 600 miles down range and 20 minutes after launching.

Officials said the first Big Shot burst apart because of an excess of sublimating powder and residual air inside the sphere.

If the upcoming test works, an effort will be made later this year to hoist an identical balloon into orbit as Echo II to determine how effective it is in relaying radio, voice messages and pictures back to earth.

This so-called passive satellite is one of many types the United States is studying to determine the best and most economical approach to a space communications system. The extremely successful Telstar satellite launched last week is an example of the active repeater type which receives a signal, amplifies it and retransmits it to the ground.

Echo I, launched Aug. 12, 1960, proved that passive communications satellites can work. It still is in orbit but its thin skin has wrinkled, reducing its effectiveness as a signal reflector.

Big Shot is 40 time more rigid and four times heavier than Echo I and is designed to retain its shape until returning to the atmosphere. Its diameter is 135 feet, compared with 100 feet for Echo I.

WANTS YOUNG BLOOD

Macmillan Is Reported Ready To Purge Again

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan today was reported preparing a second purge of government leaders in an attempt to bring fresh blood into his Conservative Party administration that has lost voter strength in 12 parliamentary by-elections this year.

The prime minister was understood to be switching jobs for non-cabinet departmental ministers, ministers of state parliamentary secretaries and whips. Newspaper estimates of the number ranged from a dozen to as high as 60.

The announcement of the second purge in brining a "new frontier" look to Macmillan's administration—as it was dubbed in the press—was expected early this week, perhaps by tomorrow.

Five non cabinet ministerial jobs are vacant and chief interest centered on the posts of minister of aviation, attorney general, minister of state at the board of trade, minister of pensions and financial secretary to the treasury.

The first government shake-up came Friday when six top cabinet ministers lost their jobs, including chancellor of the exchequer (and former foreign secretary) Selwyn Lloyd and defense minister Harold Watkinson.

In letters to departing ministers, Macmillan, who spent the weekend at his country home, said he had in mind a "reconstruction" of the government and the bringing of "younger" men into top positions.

The shakeup came only the day after the Conservatives suffered their 12th election setback in Leicester—being displaced by the resurgent Liberal Party in No. 2 spot as labor held on to its seat.

Even in those elections in which the Tories held on to their seats, their vote total was down from the 1959 general election anywhere from 20 to 50 per cent.

The Times of London said one of the tasks facing the revamped administration was healing a "defense breach" with the United States. The new defense chief, Peter Thorneycroft, the Times said, would seek an early meeting with his American counterpart, Robert McNamara.

Watkinson, the Times indicated, was caught in the middle on the question of Britain's independent nuclear deterrent which was raised publicly by McNamara and had showed "unconcealed resentment" over American successes in the European arms market.

Macmillan's shakeup was considered "ruthless," a "massacre" and "head rolling" by the British press. A Daily Mail writer called it the "most savage political slaughter in modern times."

The Times, in an editorial, expressed concern that the new British leadership would "give individuals a sense of purpose" and added: "At the moment the Conservative governments presents no coherent image at all."

No Horse Stand-Ins; They Fall On Padding

BOSTON (AP) — Ever wonder why horses don't kill themselves in the falls they take in western movies?

They fall on mattresses, says Kenneth M. McGovern Jr., 37, Humane Society inspector in Hollywood.

He says the horses are first trained to fall at a walk and gradually learn to pick up speed and fall on concealed mattresses.

It's usually the rider that winds up in the cactus, McGovern says.

CAIRO, Ill. (AP) — Fourteen jailed integrationists, vowing not to eat until they are released, got candy bars through their cell bars yesterday.

Police said it was not known if the 14 ate any of the candy. None of them accepted jail lunches or suppers.

Two of the 14 ate breakfast, then vowed with the others to refuse all food. Dozens of Negroes visited the jail during the day and passed candy bars to the prisoners.

Three white men, a white woman and 10 Negro teenagers were jailed Saturday when they refused police orders to move from the entrance of an all-white swimming pool.

Trouble For Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Like many an American tourist preparing to go abroad former President Dwight D. Eisenhower ran into trouble over his passport.

He found he didn't have one.

The passport was discovered missing last week when the former president and his wife were packing for Europe at their Gettysburg, Pa., farm. Two photographs of Eisenhower and the proper papers were rushed to a county office.

The Eisenhowers planned originally to sail for France at midnight Thursday on a French liner. A crewmen strike caused them to switch to the Queen Elizabeth sailing Wednesday.

He began an eight-day Central California crusade in Ratcliffe stadium here last night. The only scheduled appearance for Graham in California this year. Some 23,000 persons attended.

Graham said the state needs a revival because of many newcomers who tend to forget God after being uprooted.

An estimated 700 persons came forward down the aisles in answer to an appeal by Graham. He used to call this "making a decision for Christ," but now terms these "inquirers."

Tornadoes Rake Wide Area

Mitchell Aide Dies

OZARK, Ala. (AP) — A man who helped Gen. William Billy Mitchell prove the value of aerial bombardment is dead at 62.

Walter V. Clark, who was Mitchell's bombardier and copilot in a historic test in the early 1920s, died yesterday in a hospital after a long illness.

Mitchell claimed that bombs from an airplane could destroy a battleship. Clark copiloted a Martin bomber which proved Mitchell's theory. In trial bombings off Cape Hatteras, N.C., Clark sent one bomb down the smokestack of an obsolete U.S. Navy ship and dropped a second alongside, buckling the vessel's plates.

A flier for 37 years, Clark had been a civilian employee at nearby Ft. Rucker since 1955.

Socialite Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Margaret Talbott, socialite widow of Harold E. Talbott, secretary of the Air Force in the Eisenhower Administration, plunged 12 stories to her death yesterday from a bedroom window of her Manhattan apartment.

Mrs. Talbott, 62, left five notes, police said. They told of her continuing depression over the death of her husband five years ago.

Talbott, 68, died March 2, 1957, in Palm Beach, Fla., of a cerebral hemorrhage. He served as Air Force secretary under President Dwight D. Eisenhower from 1953 to 1955, when he resigned following a Senate probe into his private business affairs.

Lost Scout Found

MIRROR LAKE, Utah (UPI) — A 12-year-old Boy Scout, who wandered for three and a half days through the snowy Uinta mountains while living on raw fish, was found yesterday.

Keith Henry Davis, of Kearns, Utah, was exhausted, but otherwise unhurt, when a line of searchers found him lying atop two logs on a small hill about five miles from here.

He had wandered off from a Boy Scout camp here Thursday to go fishing and lost the trail back to camp. His only food was his catch and by the time searchers found him he was so weak he could not shout to his rescuers.

End Of An Era On Tar Ridge

CAMPTON, Ky. (AP)—A Colorful but stormy chapter in public education came to an end this spring when the doors to the battered old one-room Tar Ridge school were closed permanently.

Pupils ranging in age from four to 24 attended classes in the school at the same time. For years, the favorite sport of older pupils was frightening away their teachers. As many as six teachers were employed at the school in one year.

The 100-year-old structure was the target of many a rifle bullet and shotgun blast. The inside walls and floors show evidence of blood stains resulting from fights among the pupils and perhaps involving a teacher or two.

Tree Farm Benefits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The tree farm movement with its multiple-use benefits of wood, water, wildlife, recreation and soil stabilization has added a record 3 million acres of timberlands this year, the American Forest Products Industries reports.

Supervisors To Take Up Lucas Road

Marin County supervisors will consider tomorrow whether they should bind the county to maintain an overpass road surface and adjacent landscaping at the Lucas Valley Road overpass of Highway 101.

Investigation by Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham indicates there probably is no alternative though the state's requirement is a new one, he said today.

Previous overpasses, such as the Alto interchange, haven't carried such stipulations, but state officials recently decided that maintenance responsibility should lie with counties. The Marin situation is duplicated by one in Santa Barbara County, according to a query from southern county officials who don't like it and asked what is being done here concerning state demands.

Since Brigham's recent resignation will be effective in little more than another week, on July 25, supervisors are expected to make some sort of decision tomorrow about either a temporary or a permanent public works director.

Meanwhile they were holding discussions this afternoon with two present associate engineers, Art Knutson and Don Frost, as well as building inspector Otto Meyer, in an effort to come to conclusions.

The annual call for the California State Chamber of Commerce on Marin supervisors will be made at 3:15 p.m. tomorrow to ascertain local views as to priority requests for highway construction projects.

At least 33 per cent of Greece's national income is derived from agriculture.

Miller Too Busy For Business--Clausen

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Rep. Clem Miller of Corte Madera was "busying himself with social reforms and small local federal handouts while the business climate of the Redwood Empire slid slowly into chaos," Republican candidate Don Clausen of Crescent City charged Saturday.

Clausen, speaking to a meeting of First Congressional District GOP leaders gathered in Santa Rosa to map campaign plans, said "job opportunities are diminishing at an alarming rate" in the six counties of the district.

He pledged a "national mode of cooperation" with county, state and national representatives, working as a team, which would "bring government back home."

Clausen had just returned from a seven-day trip east, during which he participated in the three-day Republican candidates' conference in Washington, D.C., conferring with Sen. Barry Goldwater, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, and other GOP leaders. He also attended, as a Del Norte County supervisor, the 27th annual convention of the American Assn. of County Officials in New York.

Robert Hill of Eureka was reaffirmed as chairman of the First Congressional District campaign. Members of the executive committee are Gerald E. Misner of Mill Valley, newly elected Marin County Central Committee chairman, vice chairman; Jeanne Dausse of San Anselmo, secretary; Norman B. Livermore Jr. of San Rafael, treasurer; Ray E. Mast of Eureka, publicity, and Mrs. Henry M. Sherry of San Anselmo, precinct organization.

Among others attending the meeting was Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael, an ex-officio member of the committee.

It collected $2,000 for the Jimmy Fund—an agency dedicated to aid cancer-stricken children.

All events are supervised by the club sponsor—Patrolman Joseph W. Carpenter.

He says, "Kids are good if they're kept busy."

Health Experts Look At Nervous System

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Leading health experts are changing their methods of helping the sick. They are gradually recognizing the importance that the nervous system plays in good health.

These experts have noted that defective bone structure interferes with nerves and robs the body of vital nerve energy.

Sometimes a fall, a sudden jar or even poor posture can cause a slight misalignment of the spine. Nerves often are pinched when one of the 24 bones of the spine is jarred out of line. This can cause almost any type of illness imaginable . . . for the body cannot function properly when the spine is out of line.

The strange part about spinal misalignment is that the person rarely feels any great pain in his back. When ill, however, the smart thing is to look for the cause—and the safe thing is to have your spine checked by a chiropractor. Doctors of Chiropractic are specialist in correcting spinal defects.

Dr. R. W. Pearce, D.C., practices the Palmer Method. His office is at 1628 Fifth Ave., San Rafael, GL 3-6201 (Adv.)

Mountain Tribesmen Balk Algeria Deputy

ALGIERS (AP) — The tough tribesmen of the Kabylie Mountains have become the biggest obstacle to Ahmed Ben Bella's campaign for power in Algeria.

The dissident deputy premier's followers describe Algeria's Kabyle minority as their main problem. They are working hard to win the Kabyles' sympathies.

But Ben Bella's agents, campaigning in the towns and villages of the mountain range east of Algiers, are finding the Kabyles' tribal discipline impossible to break. Almost to a man, they are loyal to the government of Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda.

Estimated to number more than a million, the Kabyles took a leading part in the bitter underground war against the French. They suffered heavy losses. Hundreds of their villages were destroyed and their inhabitants moved to relocation camps.

Now that the was is over, they are rebuilding their villages. They generally favor Algeria's cooperation with France, as laid down in the Evian peace agreements and promised by Ben Khedda. Ben Bella wants to turn Algeria toward the Communist East.

The Kabyles' leader is balding revolutionary hero Belkacem Krim, one of the strong men of Ben Khedda's team and the chief nationalist negotiator at the Evian talks.

Trial Opens In Bar Ouster Case

A jury trial opened today in Marin Municipal Court to determine how much if any Capt. A. S. Oko of Inverness should pay a youth, who claims he was ejected and falsely arrested at Drake's Arms restaurant in 1959.

Gerald F. Tanner, 19, of Inverness, who is now an Army private first class, seeks $3,000 damages for being ousted from the restaurant and bar for "humiliation" suffered by being arrested.

Jury picking began today before Judge Leonard A. Thomas. The trial is expected to last for about a week.

The incident occurred on Feb. 14, 1959. Young Tanner entered the restaurant with John Oliver Goff and Eugene H. Schettler. They were ordered out by Oko, who alleged the youths became abusive when he told the bartender not to serve them.

Schettler was later found guilty of disturbing the peace. Both Schettler and Goff sued Oko for damages and were awarded $250 and $3,450 respectively. But Oko appealed this decision, and the case is still pending.

The youths charged that Oko threatened them with a night stick.

Aerospace Unions, Industry Agree

Valuable Guide Dog Is Missing

A valuable German shepherd dog belonging to Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., is missing and may be attempting to finding to find his way to his former home in San Luis Obispo, an agency spokesman said today.

The year-old dog, named Chuck, recently was brought to San Rafael from the home of a 4-H Club boy who raised him from puppyhood under farm system the foundation uses in breeding its guide dogs.

Chuck, reserved for breeding purposes because of his outstanding shepherd traits, had just been placed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pillus of 610 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

The dog strayed from the Pillus yard Saturday noon when a child left a gate open.

The animal is large, has black and tan coloring and wears only a choker chain collar with no identification.

Police Chief Dan Terzich of Mill Valley said the window of Dr. Long's office was cut cleanly with a glass cutter. That of Dr. Hanzel's office was broken with the spike that was abandoned at the scene, said Capt. Joseph Brusatori of San Rafael police.

Also marks on the pried doors indicated a heavier pry bar than the 12-inch spike had been used to get from Dr. Long's to Dr. Brown's office in Mill Valley, police of the two cities reported.

Wife Divorces Dr. T. D. Hiatt

Dr. Theodore D. Hiatt, 37, of San Rafael was divorced by his wife today on her complaint that he often stayed away from home and finally told her he loved someone else.

They were married in Denver in 1948 and separated last year. They have two children, aged 7 and 5.

Mrs. Hiatt gets the Marinwood home, and he retains his interest in his medical firm.

some participants in the congress, they advised against doing that because that might have been misunderstood.

"But had people been shown this film, they would have seen what kind of a machine it is. You can say, our rocket hits a fly in outer space," Khrushchev said.

Khrushchev also snapped back at a McKnight reminder that the Soviet Union had broken the three-year moratorium on atom tests last fall with some 40 atmospheric nuclear explosions.

The premier claimed last autumn's test series was merely an answer to earlier series by the United States.

"The U. S. keeps ahead all the time and the Soviet Union will come abreast of the United States—not in the number of explosions, mind you, but in the number of test series—only if it carries out its own tests after the current series of American tests," Khrushchev said.

"We hope that following this the U. S. will, perhaps, agree after all to sign a treaty on ending of tests for all time."

Occasionally hitting his desk for emphasis, Khrushchev said the Soviet Union would not have to test again if the Americans stopped tests now and signed an agreement on general and complete disarmament and destruction of nuclear weapons.

"But if America proceeds with testing, stockpiling and improvment of nuclear weapons, we shall of course be compelled to do the same thing," he said.

Khrushchev also said:

That the Soviets would give consideration to easing travel restrictions in the USSR as was recently done for Soviet citizens in the United States. But he made clear the Russians were still suspicious of tourists, diplomats and journalists acting as spies within their country.

That he considerd the United Nations to be still dominated by the United States and its allies, "but that period is already running out for the U.S. and will soon end."

He welcomed President John F. Kennedy's expressions of peaceful intentions but felt that they were not backed up by deeds.

That America was "only harming itself" by not trading with the Soviet Union and by forcing the U.S.S.R. to develop its own industries instead of buying needed materials from America.

Visibility 40 miles

Fog may swirl through the Golden Gate shrouding every landmark from Mile Rock to Point Richmond, but the electronic eye at San Francisco's Pier 45 sees every craft within 40 miles. This year more than 10,000 ship movements will be screened through the new Marine Exchange radar system, first of its kind in this country.

More than 120 steamship lines call regularly at this port, their flags evidence that the countries of the Pacific basin and Latin America are emerging as major consumers as well as suppliers. The markets in the West itself are growing prodigiously too. And the Golden Gate swings wide and welcoming in both directions. In 1961, exports totaled almost 733 million dollars—imports reached almost 500 million.

It is a bright future for the sea-based industries – just one element in the diverse, dynamic economy of Northern California. This is Wells Fargo country from San Francisco to the Sierra, from Eureka to King City. Since 1852 this has been our own special land – its people and its promise our first concern.

50 MILES FOR 'NON-SWIMMER'—Mrs. Marjorie Collett of Mill Valley, who learned to swim only after her four children had done so, is the first to swim 50 miles this summer under the Marin Red Cross's new "Swim and Stay Fit" program. It took her four weekends to do it. (Independent-Journal photo)

Mother Is 50-Mile Swimmer; She Learned After Children

A Mill Valley mother of four teen-agers, who years ago had to tell her Olympic swimmer fiance she didn't know how to swim, is the first to swim 50 miles under a Marin County Red Cross "Swim and Stay Fit" program started this summer.

In four weekends, Mrs. Marjorie Collett, monitored by Lawrence Semenza of San Francisco, one of her private swimming pupils, swam five to nine miles a day. She emerged from the final lap with a good-looking tan, a figure that would be the envy of any 20-year-old, and a "real sense of accomplishment.

"My husband (Elmer) was captain of the water polo team in the 1924 Olympic Games in Paris. It was really quite embarrassing to let him know I couldn't swim," she related.

Four children, Joan, Elmer Jr., Cedric and Brian, arrived before Mrs. Collett, who was an active bicycle rider, decided to do something about her swimless state. Ten years ago she registered in a Red Cross beginners' class. Two years later she was a swimming instructor.

"It was a struggle to learn," she said. "I was the worst in the beginners' course. I still remember Mrs. Beth Kaufman (of San Anselmo), my first teacher, and all the extra encouragement she gave me. I wasn't afraid of the water. I had just done a lot of golfing and bicycle racing and have never bothered about swimming."

Her husband, assistant U.S. attorney in San Francisco, now confines his swimming to occasional dips. He looks with some astonishment on his wife's 50-mile swim, she said.

"But I recommend swimming 50 miles," said Mrs. Collett, who lives with her family at 270 Molino Avenue in Mill Valley. "Most everybody falls apart after they get married. We sit around too much! Swimming is healthy, and it trims down your figure."

Mrs. Collett, who is teaching this month at the Tamalpais High School pool summer Red Cross swimming program, says her four children all know how to swim. Their activities, however, aren't limited to sports. Joan graduated from Stanford University this June before she was 20 and plans a career as a diplomat.

What will Mrs. Collett do now that she's finished her 50 mile swim?

"I've started my second 50 miles."

Antoinette Joost Is Semi-Conscious

Mrs. Antoinette Joost, 78, of 319 G Street, San Rafael, remained semi-conscious today at San Rafael General Hospital following a stroke at her home Saturday.

The victim, who has had two previous strokes, lives alone. She was found unconscious by neighbors Saturday noon.

Animals Die After Flight Into Space

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (AP)—Two monkeys and four hamsters exposed to cosmic rays were found dead after their capsule was parachuted into dense bush country from a high-flying U.S. research balloon yesterday.

The report came from a helicopter crew that visited the site a few hours after the cluster of three capsules was released. There was no immediate word on the cause of the death of the animals.

The experiment was to test the effects of 50 per cent exposure to the radiation that man is expected to encounter in future journeys into space.

Flower beetles, which are extremely sensitive to cosmic radiation, also went in a separate capsule on the 1,800-mile ride at altitudes of up to 131,000 feet across the North American continent that began Saturday.

First reports from the wilderness area where the capsules fell did not mention the insect's fate. A third capsule carried instruments.

The capsules' release from the balloon was triggered over Candle Lake in northern Saskatchewan.

The U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration directed the research project. Two more launchings are planned this summer to provide basic information on radiation problems applicable to manned space flight.

Ban-The-Bomb Marcher Given 30 Days

CAMP MERCURY, Nev. (AP)—A woman ban-the-bomb marcher faces 30 days in jail for trespassing at this secret nuclear test site.

Sentenced yesterday was Mrs. Mary Harvey, 32, of Modesto. She was taken into custody about two feet beyond the line marking the edge of the Atomic Energy Commission's site.

Her arrest came a day after the United States detonated the second atmospheric shot since 1957 at the site. Another blast —during which troops will be deployed close by—is expected in several days.

Mrs. Harvey appeared at the test facility's gate with three companions. They called themselves "The Committee for Non-Violent Action." The others stopped. Mrs. Harvey continued and was taken into custody.

The other three were Melvin Harvey, 41, husband of the arrested woman; Mrs. Harvey's nephew, Richard, 18, and Joan Abrams of Oakland, Calif.

Mrs. Harvey's group appeared an hour after a larger group of demonstrators picketed without incident in the hot desert sun and left.

The arrested woman was taken to Beatty, Nev., where she pleaded guilty. She began serving her term immediately in county jail in the mining town of Tonopah.

Dist. Atty. William Beko of Nye County said he tried for 30 minutes to talk Mrs. Harvey out of crossing the line. He said he suggested she talk to the AEC.

"She felt this hadn't done any good in the past, and it wouldn't do any good now. I don't see what she gained because she didn't get to talk to anybody but the judge," said Beko.

The earlier pickets were 42 members of "Women—Strike for Peace." They paraded through the downtown Las Vegas gambling district 65 miles south the night before. They insisted they planned no civil disobedience.

Several pickets were arrested in 1957 when they tried to pass the gate to the test site.

Church's Sermons, Music Out-Of-Town

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—One Columbus church has an out-of-town minister, organist and choir every Sunday. The newly constructed Glenwood Methodist Church is so situated that the congregation is in the city limits, but everything back of the altar steps (pulpit, organ and choir-loft) is in the village of Valleyview.

Hamilton Sergeant Is Critical After Two-Car Ignacio Crash

S/Sgt. Hugh Robert McDermott, 37, of the 78th Field Maintenance Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base was in critical condition in the base hospital today as result of a two-car crash on Highway 101 at Entrada Drive, Ignacio, at 10:45 p.m. Saturday.

Driver of the other car, Edward Jay Stewart, 18, of 1 Shields Lane, Novato, told California Highway patrolmen that both cars were headed north when McDermott, who lives at 1130 A Marin Road on the base, turned left into the right side of his car.

McDermott was knocked unconscious and was thrown from the driver's seat into the back seat, the CHP reported.

Mrs. Ann Ryan, 30, of 100 Boardwalk, Greenbrae, was in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today after driving her husband's new automobile onto a light pole beside Highway 101 early yesterday.

Northbound alone at 5:45 a.m., Mrs. Ryan had just passed the Tamalpais Valley turnoff south of the Richardson Bay Bridge when her car left the highway where it curved left, crossing part of a dirt divider.

Mrs. Ryan was thrown forward and her head made a hole in the windshield. She suffered multiple facial cuts and undetermined internal injuries. Due to her condition she could not be interviewed by the California Highway Patrol.

A 13-year-old Larkspur boy suffered head injuries in a rear-end auto collision at the 1000 block on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo yesterday.

The victim, Bruce Black of 101 Harvard Drive, was reported in good condition today in Marin General Hospital.

The boy was a passenger with Mrs. Sherrye Burger, 18, of 59 Maple Avenue, Fairfax. The driver of the other car was Arthur Lynn DeSetta of Berkeley, police reported.

In another Marin County accident, Ramona Galend Miller, 45, of Daly City stopped her car in the southbound lane on the Golden Gate Bridge at noon Saturday. It was hit from the rear by a car driven by Armande Rosalie Cushway, 24, of San Francisco, CHP reported. Mrs. Miller received a whip lash and went to her own doctor, according to the CHP.

No Romance In Citizens' Hearts

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The Tucson City Council is convinced that 16 residents of the southern Arizona city have no romance in their hearts.

The council changed the name of East 32nd Street to Valentine Lane. The 16 residents protested and demanded the old name be returned.

Cadillac

It could easily be in your driveway!

What motorist wouldn't happily trade circumstances with this delighted gentleman?

For this is his first Cadillac—and its arrival in his driveway has occasioned almost as much excitement in the neighborhood as it has in his own home.

But if you appreciate his good fortune—then envy him also his wisdom.

For he has, without any question, made the move to the "car of cars" at the ideal moment. He discovered, for instance, that the Cadillac Coupe is now priced below eleven models of other less desirable cars.

Furthermore, he found that most of the features he wanted—power steering, power braking and Hydra-Matic drive—were included in the initial price of a Cadillac.

And he has already had a hint of other Cadillac economies. The gasoline gauge has barely budged off the "full" mark and the car is so quiet in motion that he knows he can drive it with pride for years to come.

Yet, he'll be in for a happy surprise when the time does come to sell it. For a Cadillac can be expected to retain a greater portion of its value than any other motor car.

So if you have a Cadillac in your heart—then let us show you how quickly and easily we could put one in your driveway.

Our Encouragement, Pledge To The Captive Nations

For the third time since it was established by Congress in 1959, we are observing Captive Nations Week this week. You may recall that its establishment launched Premier Khrushchev into one of his biggest tantrums, because it was aimed at a vital spot, his soft, poorly protected back.

Behind him are millions of people who deplore communism, who long for freedom, who plan to have it again some day.

It is to these people that Captive Nations Week gives hope and comfort. It is a reiteration of our oft-stated position favoring the right of self-determination, of the right of the people to determine their own government.

In the captive nations of Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Estonia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland and Romania, lost is freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom of assembly, even freedom from fear.

The Soviet states of Ukraine, Georgia, Armenia and others no longer have their former independence.

Instead, Soviet military and administrative personnel dominate the lives of the citizens; restrictions, like the Berlin wall, block hope of escape. Yet all the totalitarian powers can not completely blot out the last reservoirs of resistance.

Sometimes they erupt into violence, and in Hungary and Poland in 1956. But more often today they appear as unmet production quotas and "failure" of crops.

The captive peoples are sabotaging the goals of the communists, undermining the governmental structure while suffering themselves as a result of such sabotage.

These reservoirs of freedom in the hearts of so many behind the Iron Curtain deserve our encouragement and support. In this special week we hope we speak for all people of Marin County in offering such encouragement and pledging such support.

That Danged Old Sea Breeze

About 11 o'clock in the morning, the leaves start to rustle and chilly gusts of air put an end to our patio and porch plans for the day. As the matriarch of our house says, "It's that danged old sea breeze!"

This wind, which has blown across the chill, gray waters of the North Pacific Ocean, is not the sort of zephyr which arouses dreams of the tropics and a lazy attitude.

Yet, that danged old sea breeze is what keeps our Bay Area comfortable during July and August, while most of the rest of the country is sweltering in mid-summer heat.

Of the two, we'll take the sea breeze —but dang it anyway!

SHOW A LITTLE PRUDENCE

A red-bellied turtle was the startling device used by a robber to gain admission to a zoo.

When the man approached the gate carrying his unusual pet, a guard admitted him, thinking he was going to make a gift of it.

But the visitor turned on the guard and used the turtle as a club to knock him unconscious. The interloper took $100 from the gatehouse cash register and escaped.

Eye-catching devices can confuse or even deceive the unwary. Too often those who are taken in by alluring slogans or attractive but dishonest schemes could have protected themselves by reasonable caution.

Whether you are voting in an election, taking part in a meeting or watching a film or TV presentation, try to weigh the pros and cons.

Much grief can be averted by strict adherence to the laws of God and the rules of straight thinking. Be ever on the alert to distinguish the true from the false.

'Sage Of Smokies' Has Learned Art Of Happiness In Simplicity

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Bert Garner, 76, "Sage of the Great Smokies," goes barefoot seven months of the year and has proved a man can get by on $50 a year.

A disciple of simple living who dwells on the farm of his birth in a two-room cabin he built 42 years ago for $87.50, the elderly philosopher spent less than 15 cents a day for meals until Uncle Sam put him on Social Security.

Now Bert varies his diet of dried corn, fresh vegetables and soybeans with an occasional restaurant meal.

"I was against Social Security before, and I'm against it now," said Garner. "I don't think it's the function of the government to take care of the people—it's the duty of the people to take care of the government.

"But I guess I can't change the system single-handed."

Bert held jobs from Manhattan to California before he decided at 60 to swear off work and give up the world's foolish ways for the rest of his life.

"I believe in simple living and high thinking," said Garner. "Freedom means more than money anytime.

"Most people never know real freedom. They have become wage slaves.

"I choose to live the way I do so I can live the way I want. Leisure is one of the great words in the English language. I have the leisure I want to learn and study."

His cabin in a 50-acre woodland retreat has no radio, no television, no electricity. His annual utilities bill is 38 cents —for two gallons of lamp oil.

But the cabin is stocked with a library of 2,000 books. And Bert easily spends more for magazines and newspapers than he does for food, clothing and shelter.

GARNER RAISES 27 kinds of fruits, nuts and vegetables, in his garden, says he is far too busy ever to be lonely or bored.

The world he forsook has beaten a path to Garner's door. He has had visitors from most states and from as far away as Switzerland.

One university professor, after talking to Bert, said:

"IF EVERYONE lived as thriftily as you do, it would wreck the economy of our country almost overnight."

To curious callers who ask how they can achieve happiness through simplicity, Bert replied with a smile:

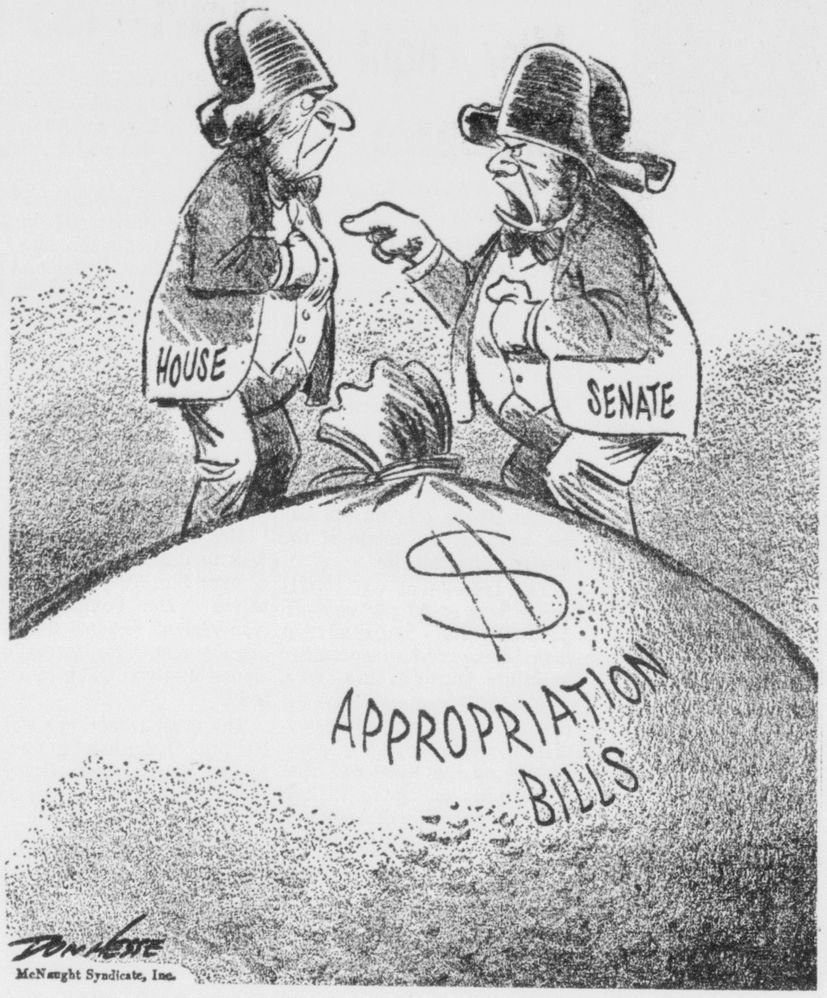

"First, shoot your wife. This is no life for a married man."

Hospital Work Pleasant For All

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

We have just completed a construction project at the Ross General Hospital involving considerable remodeling and the addition of a new psychiatric wing. We were able to continue in full operation during this time in spite of the noise and clutter. Patients, workmen and nurses were often in close proximity.

It is a real tribute to the cooperation and willing spirit of all concerned that we were able to do this. The workmen all seemed to have a sensitivity to the patients' requirements, causing a minimum of disturbance of the hospital routine.

We at the hospital want each person involved in this project to know how much we appreciate the spirit of cooperation that was in evidence during this construction.

We are, also, grateful to Jack Hermann, the architect, George Herrera, the general contractor, and all the subcontractors. They all contributed to make the job, that could have been very difficult, a pleasant and rewarding experience.

Don't Overlook Court Implications

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

What you and the other supporters of the Supreme Court's "Graham cracker" prayer decision overlook are its obvious implications.

Based on my personal experience, I think that I can predict with assurance that the people and organizations that commenced and carried through this litigation fully intend to force the courts, school boards and public bodies to recognize and accept these implications, a few of which are:

(1) That the occasional recital of the pledge of allegiance to the flag, whether formally or informally officially prescribed, is contrary to the Constitution because of the words "under God" therein contained.

(2) That the payment of salaries of chaplains serving the Senate and House, out of public funds, is illegal.

(3) That the construction and maintenance of the cross on Mt. Davidson (public property) was and is legally not permissible, etc.

The basic error in the court's opinion, as I see it, is its failure to recognize that custom both is and makes law. With respect to the issue before the court, custom has for well over 150 years supported similar or identical practice.

At the very core of this problem is the question as to who is the ultimate interpreter of the Constitution. In my opinion, it is dominant public opinion expressed by the people of the U. S. who ordained that document, which begins, as you know, with these words, "We, the people of the United States," etc.

Laws, whether constitutional, statutory or decisional, are a dead letter unless approved by dominant public opinion, e.g., the Prohibition Amendment.

When, therefore, the custom of acknowledging our dependence on the Deity in school and public proceedings has for many years been followed in our country, such custom has the force of law and no court has the legal authority, in my view, to declare it legal.

The changing, modification or amendment of our laws is a function of our legislative bodies, not that of the court.

Therefore, I cannot agree that the "Graham cracker decision" is sound law.

JOHN B. EHLEN
Sausalito

(NOTE: One of the purposes of our editorial was to point out that the "implications" to which Reader Ehlen refers were not a part of the decision and should not be so construed. We thank him for pinpointing some of these dangers. We cannot agree, however, that the proper way for the public to change law is by lawlessness. As with the Prohibition Amendment, lawlessness results from flouting the law until the law is changed to conform to the public will.)

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

More time was granted by Marin County supervisors for parents' group studies of a proposed juvenile curfew ordinance for unincorporarted areas.

A free shoppers' bus operated by Cecil Allen for chambers of commerce in San Anselmo between the Ross Valley and San Rafael was discontinued after six weeks because costs were deemed too heavy.

Richmond-San Rafael Ferry and Transportation Co. filed application for rates higher by about 16 per cent, increasing one-way auto fare from 80 cents to 88 cents and replacing 60-ride commute books at $22.50 with 40-ride books priced at $19.50.

20 YEARS AGO

The Marin Grand Jury criticized insurance coverage of county property, saying there are "numerous opportunities for improvement" because some property is over-insured, some not insured at all. Saving of $5,843 could be made over a three-year period, the jury said.

Full war insurance was placed on Marin County property at a $650 annual premium for $475,900 coverage arranged by Ray C. Schultz. Supervisor Chairman T. Fred Bagshaw pointed out the danger of bomb damage and said "We cannot possibly take that sort of risk."

Deer were reported plentiful and in good condition in Marin County.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

This year's parody issue of the Wall Street Journal—it's called the Bawl Street Journal and is perpetrated once a year—showed that despite all the dire doings recently in the financial district, the brokers and bankers can still laugh at themselves a bit.

The parody told, for instance, of a mythical merger of the Dime Savings Bank and the Dollar Savings Bank — the new colossus to be named, of course, the "$1.10 Savings Bank." One brokerage house is bringing out an issue for a new manufacturer of gambling equipment: dice made of soap for floating crap games.

And a publishing house — the name escapes me at the moment—has prevailed upon Bernard Baruch to write a book called "How I Made Two Million Dollars Teaching Ballroom Dancing." (Editor of the Bawl Street Journal is John Straley.)

"Our most popular sport down here," a guide in a Latin American capital told a woman tourist from the States, "is bullfighting." The lady recoiled. "Isn't that revolting!" she remarked. "No, senora," responded the guide quickly. "That's our second most popular sport."

Phone, Operator, Soft Drink Machine All Are In Cahoots

Besides inflicting digititis on all its helpless subscribers, the telephone company is cultivating a breed of operators who are harder to deal with than the electronic devices that are relentlesssly replacing them.

Waiting between buses in San Francisco recently (one always waits between buses in San Francisco), I stepped into a pay telephone booth to make a call to a community down the peninsula.

It seemed proper to put in a dime, dial the operator and give her the number; they always ask for it anyhow. So I did.

"YOU CAN DIAL that number direct, sir," the unseen voice said with just a trace of scorn.

"Thank you."

So I did. And what did I get? Another operator. This one asked for 45 cents for the first three minutes. Two quarters was the closest I had, and seeing that a nickel these days is hardly worth same anyway, I pumped two quarters in the slot.

"You have deposited 50 cents, sir," said the cool voice. "I will return your coins. Please dial again and deposit the correct change."

MUTTERING DARK invectives about monopolistic corporations which balk at making an extra nickel, I headed for the depot candy counter to break a quarter.

"You'll have to get your change at the newsstand," the girl at the candy counter said crisply.

Time was getting short which couldn't be said of the line of people waiting at the newsstand.

IN DESPERATION I shunned humanity and turned for help to a machine—a large, obtuse-looking thing whose white front said it dispensed soft drinks for 15 cents. It also would make change.

I had two quarters. I also had one dime. Thus I reasoned that if I put a quarter in the machine, it would give me back a dime, whereby I would have 45 cents.

The quarter rattled away into the machine's innards and it disgorged a dime into the coin return chute. I had won.

ORANGE DRINK was my choice; I punched the button.

But do you know what? That machine must have known I didn't really want the orange drink. It weakly drizzled a scant jigger of gaudy liquid into a paper cup and quit.

I left the cup in the dispenser compartment and made my phone call.

A machine that smart is not to be trifled with.

Danger Is Real Of A War Between Red China Communists And India

WASHINGTON—The most ominous event on the horizon is the deteriorating relationship between India and Red China.

The danger of war between these two vast Asian nations is not merely potential. The ingredients are at hand.

The incursion of Communist troops into Indian territory all along the Tibetan border has jolted Prime Minister Nehru out of his dream-world of "peaceful co-existence" with Peking. This is good.

Now it looks as though Red China's aggression against India's Himalayan frontier has gone so far that Nehru is up against the hard, harsh alternative: defend India by force against the Communist invaders or give part of his nation away.

IF HIS ACTIONS match his words, Nehru has made his decision. India, he says, will fight. It is probable that he could not have long survived any other decision.

The Chinese Communists are furious at Nehru for beginning to stand up to them. They are protesting all over the place. They feel he has misled them by appearing so snug in his wishful trust of his "Chinese brothers," and by now taking weapon in hand and saying, "Get out!"

I am not defending the Chinese Communist aggression against India one iota. I am simply pointing out why the Communists thought they might be able to get away with it.

AT STAKE ARE about 50,000 square miles of territory held by the rulers of India for many centuries. Before waking up to what the Chinese were doing, India suddenly found that Chinese patrols had already gained control of 12,000 square miles of territory near Ladakh.

China's claims to these areas of India long pre-date the present Communist regime. But soon after the Communist take-over in 1949, they began to reassert their claims by publishing maps displaying the Chinese empire extending beyond the southern ranges of the Indian Himalayas into the Assam Valley and enveloping portions of Ladakh, Sikkim and Bhutan. These areas have been under Indian administration for centuries.

For a number of years the Chinese Communists succeeded in deceiving the Indians as to their intentions by repudiating the maps publicly, but pushing patrol units secretly across the Indian borders. They claimed that the Chinese maps were left over from Chiang Kai-shek. In 1956 they promised they would withdraw them.

TWO YEARS LATER the Communists built a military transport road across the Aksai Chin area and, so inaccessible is the territory, it was completed before the Indans discovered the aggression.

The issue before Nehru thus became direct and naked. Red China was not proposing to alter its map of conquest; it was acting to alter India to fit its map.

Apparently Nehru has been pushed as far as he will go. Indian troops are pressing the Communist patrols. Peking is finding that what it hoped to get for virtually nothing, it can only get by war—if at all.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Why Break Your Neck For Something You Don't Need?

Like everybody else, bridge players often break their necks in the attempt to get what they don't need. There is probably a moral in this hand, contributed by M. J. Sullivan, one of Australia's great players.

Opening lead — ◇ 2

The average player wins the opening diamond lead in dummy to lead a club. The king of clubs loses to West's singleton ace, and South eventually gets only one club trick.

DOWN ONE

Since South has only five tricks outside of clubs, he goes down one.

This gives him the melancholy pleasure of remarking "Bad luck, partner. I'd have made it with a normal club break."

No faithful reader of this column would miss the point of this hand. You would count your tricks and see that you need two club tricks for the contract.

WOULDN'T DREAM

You wouldn't dream of endangering the contract just to try for a third club trick.

The correct play is to win the first diamond in the South hand and lead a low club at once.

This protects you against a singleton ace in the West hand, for you can later win tricks easily with the king and queen of clubs.

What would happen if West didn't have the singleton ace of clubs? You would win the diamond return in the dummy.

LEAD CLUB

Then you would lead a club from dummy, and you would still have your normal chance to win two club tricks.

You wouldn't have any chance for three club tricks, but you are willing to give up this chance to give yourself the best chance to win two club tricks.

tricks.

The moral will be clear to bridge players: Find out what you really need, and don't be tempted by anything else.

Giants Showing Signs Of Panic, But There's Still A Ray Of Hope

CONNOLLY

Last month everyone waited for the San Francisco Giants to come through with their annual "Swoon in June," but all they could produce was a mild fainting spell. This last weekend the Giants tried to create a new slogan, "Die in July."

It took some heroics for the stopper to be put on a three-game losing streak, but the patient is still living. The heart attacks belong to Giant fans.

Face the facts that the Giants are in a horrible slump, and you will have to look for the silver lining. They just can't be as bad as they look and still stay in contention.

Paradoxically, this is still the greatest glimmer of hope you can generate for an eventual win for Manager Alvin Dark and his stalwarts. They have been so bad they have to improve.

MY BIGGEST fear is that Dark is pushing the panic button. Early and often. The signs are evident.

Base running has been of high school caliber, game after game. Part of this fault has to be poor thinking on the part of the players, and part has to be laid directly at the feet of third base Coach Whitey Lockman.

With Orlando Cepeda, Willie Mays and Felipe Alou in such batting slumps that even pitchers with non-winning records for the year are begging to throw against them, the guts has gone out of the vaunted Giant power.

The usually reliable Harvey Kuenn was benched during the home stay for weak hitting. Catcher Ed Bailey, after one week of homerun slugging that saved plenty of embarrassment for the Giants, is hitting a resounding .231 which is a good bowling score but no average for a key man.

THE PANIC button in the dugout has the "sluggers" swinging on three ball-no strike pitches with regularity. With no results. The bunt as a weapon for scoring a single run has been forgotten, but we are treated to the sight of batters bunting with two out and two men on when runs are needed to tie or win.

Panic has also hit the bullpen. (No, not this column!) Starters are showing up with regularity as relief pitchers, and the relief pitchers should be on relief instead of drawing salaries under false pretenses.

So why do I feel that there is still hope for the Giants? As I said before, they can't get worse, and there is a good chance that all or most of the team will snap out of the doldrums at one time and really cut a path through the rest of the league.

It always takes managers a week or two longer than sports columnists to see the light. One of these days Dark will check the past performance records and find that Juan Marichal pitches his greatest games with five days rest instead of four. That Bob Bolin is an excellent starter but should be relieved immediately after showing signs of weakening. That Stu Miller is getting fat in the middle (dressing room observation) and needs work.

THAT WILLIE MAYS is kicking his back foot in the batters box, aiming his fanny at the visitors dugout and hitting into double plays. And, after all these years (and I don't blame him) is getting a bit gun-shy of those balls thrown at his head. And that Cepeda is dropping his shoulder and lunging while trying to loft the ball instead of meeting it naturally.

Incidentally, why do the Giants still have no effective batting mentor with Lefty O'Doul still available and capable?

The Giants can still cop the flag if they play to their capabilities. Everyone worries about Pittsburgh, a team that would have to come from farther back with less personnel. Forget the panic button and the fear phychology and the job can be done.

Let's hope it starts with the New York Mets tonight and follows through with the Milwaukee Braves in mid-week before the face-to-facer with the Pirates over next weekend.

Sanford Guns For 5th Straight Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Sanford, San Francisco's most consistant winner of late, shoots for his fifth straight victory tonight against the New York Mets.

But even as the streaking burly right-hander 10-6 tangles with Roger Craig (5-12), the Giants are contemplating possible future consistent winning by $150,000 Bob Garibaldi.

Garibaldi, the 20-year-old Santa Clara sophomore signed by the Giants July 4, made his first appearance yesterday and, at least for 11 pitches, looked like a brilliant lift to the spotty pitching of the second-placers.

The fast-balling right-hander pitched the eighth inning of a doubleheader opener that the Giants lost 5-3 before they won the nightcap 9-8.

Rod Kanehl tried to bunt on Garibaldi but was thrown out. Elio Chacon flied out and Chris Cannizzaro looked at a third strike.

The Polo Grounds crowd of 35,463 gave him a standing ovation after the inning. "He looked great," chimmed in manager Alvin Dark later.

Sanford's assignment tonight will be to help the Giants cut the 2½-game margin by which they trail Los Angeles — and pad the Giants' meager two-game lead over third-place Pittsburgh. The three leaders all split their Sunday doubleheaders.

Billy Pierce, back in action for the first time in a month, was blasted by the Mets in the fourth inning of the first game.

He and successor Jim Duffalo were nicked for all five Mets runs, Frank Thomas' double off Pierce and Chacon's single off Duffalo, each scoring two runs, were the key blows.

The Giants scored twice in the first, then could add only Tom Haller's ninth-inning homer off winner Jay Hook. Pierce (8-3) lost his third straight.

San Francisco nearly blew a 9-2 lead in the nightcap. A five-run second inning and Orlando Cepeda's two-run homer in the seventh inning helped stake Bob Bolin to the big lead.

Bunt singles by Richie Ashburn and Kanehl opened the eighth for the Mets. Two doubles, a single and a walk finish-Bolin, but Stu Miller couldn't hold the gate either.

After two singles narrowed the score to 9-8, Dark brought in Juan Marichal for his first relief work of the year. The Dominican right-hander induced Kanehl, up for the second time in the inning to line to center field.

Bolin, however, got the win, his fourth against no losses. Cepeda's home run was his first since June 30 and only his second extra-base hit in that span.

Garibaldi 'Scared' In His Debut

NEW YORK (AP)—How does a 20-year-old collegian who never has pitched an inning of organized baseball feel when he makes the trek from the bullpen to the mound in his first major league game?

"Scared," admitted 6-foot-5, 205-pound Bob Garibaldi today. "It really scared me taking that long walk from the bullpen."

Garibaldi was signed by the San Francisco Giants off the Santa Clara campus for an estimated $150,000 bonus on July 4. He had been named the most valuable player in the College World Series in Omaha.

Commissioner Ford Frick ruled that he could not officially become a member of the Giants until yesterday. Manager Alvin Dark waited only until the eighth inning of the opener to give him a try.

The Giants were behind 5-2 when he took over and he retired the side with no trouble.

"I'm just as glad I pitched, though," said Garibaldi. "It took a lot of the tension off me."

FOLLOWS ADVICE

While I was out there I just kept trying to follow the manager's advice. He told me to take my time—not to hurry at all—and to pitch strikes.

"I sure got a big kick out of it when the guys on the team got up to shake my hand when I finished my inning."

"He looked great," said Dark. "He pitched like a real big leaguer."

Dark said he would keep Garibaldi pitching batting practice, perhaps use him as the long middle innings relief man, then consider starting him against the Houston Colts next week.

Former Indian Hurler Dies While Golfing

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Former Cleveland Inians pitcher Howard O. Graghead died Saturday while playing golf. He was 54.

The coroner's office said Graghead apparently died from a heart attack.

Graghead, a Cleveland hurler from 1931 to 1933 and later for the San Diego Padres of the Pacific Coast League, had lived here since 1936 and was secretary for the San Diego Gas and Electric Co.

Dick Lotz New State Golf Champ

PEBBLE BEACH (AP) — California has its youngest State Amateur Golf champion in history, but it won't have him long. Texas gets him.

For 19-year-old Dick Lotz of Hayward this fall enrolls in the University of Houston, one of the nation's most golf conscious colleges, which gave him a scholarship.

The junior member of the Lotz golfing family, a 5-8, 168 pounder, captured the state title yesterday with a 5 and 3 victory over Ron Cerrudo of Castro Valley, a 17-year-old who started erratically and never could make up for his early errors in the 36-hole match.

Cerrudo in the semifinals had eliminated John Lotz, the 21-year-old San Jose State senior considered the better golfer in the family of ex-Pacific Coast League pitcher John Lotz.

The winning youngster fired a six-over-par 78 for the morning round to an 81 for Cerrudo but was one-under for the 15 holes he needed in the afternoon.

While Lotz goes to Houston, Cerrudo enters San Jose State this fall so it may not be long before they meet in collegiate competition.

Ronnie, a long-hitting 6-footer, proved the sensation of this first California amateur he has entered.

He had expected to be playing in the junior challenge round instead of the championship proper.

With Ronnie in the finals, Jim Wiechers of Atherton took over the junior job and whipped John Jacobs of Whittier 5 and 4 in their 36-hole match.

A gallery of about 2,000 watched the first championship final between two teen-agers in the 51-year history of the California tournament. It was the largest in five years after disappointing crowds for the earlier rounds.

DODGERS LEAD BY 2½

New High For Futility In N.L.; All Twin-Bills Split

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National League set a new high for futility yesterday. After 10 games, stretching over 7 hours and 45 minutes, all 10 clubs were right back where they started.

The five split double-headers left Los Angeles 2½ games in front of San Francisco and 4½ in front of Pittsburgh. St. Louis still trailed by 10 and Cincinnati by 10½.

And the Mets? Still 34½ games out and 39 games below .500.

After beating the Giants in the opener 5-3, the Mets staged a six-run uprising in the eighth inning of the second game before finally succumbing 9-8.

The Dodgers also ran into trouble with the have-nots. After breezing past the Phillies in the opener 9-1 on a six-hitter by Johnny Podres, they lost 2-1 to Art Mahaffey, who never had beaten them previously.

ANOTHER STANDOFF

St. Louis and Pittsburgh clawed away at one another all day and got nothing more than a standoff. Fred Whitfield's pinch homer in the 10th gave the Cards the opener 3-2 but the Pirates grabbed the second 8-7 on Roberto Clemente's single after the Cards tied the score in the top of the ninth. Stan Musial set another record when he came up for his 10,428th time at bat in the sixth inning of the second game, breaking Honus Wagner's old National League mark.

Milwaukee got five-hit shutout pitching by Lew Burdette for a 5-0 victory over Cincinnati in the first game and appeared on the way to two before the Reds beat rookie Denny Lemaster 3-2 with two in the ninth on Vada Pinson's 16th homer and a tained run after Lee Maye dropped Wally Post's fly.

Houston was guilty of nine errors, five in the first game which they won from Chicago 5-4 on Al Spangler's two-run homer in the seventh. The Cubs took the second 4-1 with 10 hits, four Houston errors and a tidy five-hit pitching job by Dick Ellsworth.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

In the American League, the New York Yankees moved 2½ games in front of Los Angeles by taking two from Kansas City, 8-6 in 10 innings and 11-3. Baltimore knocked off Cleveland in both ends 6-4 and 6-5. Minnesota topped Boston 5-3 and their second game was rained out. Chicago won a single from Detroit 5-3. Los Angeles beat Washington 5-1 in the opener but the Senators came back to take the second 10-4.

Podres' complete game against the Phils was his first since May 9. He had failed to finish 13 straight times.

Mahaffey had lost seven straight to the Dodgers in his big league career before he finally scored in the second game. Phil Ortega, a surprise starter, simply couldn't handle Roy Sievers who hit his 12th homer in the second and scored the winning run on Bobby Wine's single in the fourth after he was hit by a pitch.

FACE LOSES, WINS

Whitfield's homer at Pittsburgh won the game for Ray Washburn, the man for whom he batted. Roy Face was the loser.

Thomas Determined To Upset Russ Ace

PALO ALTO (AP) — Records, favorites and the attention of the track world all have changed since the last time a slender Boston University high jumper named John Thomas visited Stanford University.

Two years ago the 6-foot-5 Negro was a magnet who drew throngs to watch him glide effortlessly over 7 feet as he practiced for the U.S. Olympic Trials.

In those trials on July 1, 1960, the smiling Thomas lifted himself over the then-incredible height of 7-3¾ to a world record and an apparent ticket to an Olympic gold medal.

Now Thomas is back at Stanford to jump for the United States against Russia in a dual meet next Saturday and Sunday.

But his name excites the spectator no more than a dozen other names. He is not the world record-holder. He is not the Olympic champion.

But he is a serious 21-year-old who hopes his own determination and the magic of Stanford Statdium's grass field event areas can help him whip the new high jump king—Russian Valery Brumel, a man who has never lost to Thomas in five meetings.

It is evident he remembers the Rome Olympics, when his "sure" gold medal tarnished to bronze as Russia's Robert Shav-lakadze and Brumel upset him.

Then Brumel came to the United States the following indoor season and whipped Thomas three times. Last July he bested Thomas again with a mighty leap of 7-4¼ while the American cleared 7-2.

Yesterday the dark-haired Soviet student demonstrated the grass could help him as it once helped Thomas. In his first series of jumps off the unaccustomed surface, Brumel cleared 7-3. His pending world mark is 7-4⅝.

Thomas has cleared only 6-10½ this year.

ONGARO '9' UNBEATEN IN LEAGUE

The Ongaro Plumbers—with hurler Bob De Rosa getting 13 strikeouts — remained undefeated in the Marin Semi-Pro Baseball League by whipping the Mill Valley Merchants 10-6 Saturday and Billings—Hutchison dropped San Anselmo 5-3 last night.

DeRosa, going all the way for Ongaro, allowed nine hits, six of them in the ninth inning for four Mill Valley runs.

Ron Cole collected three singles, Bill Buffalow hit a triple and a single and Dick Spackman hit a couple of singles to lead the Ongaro attack.

Don Palaia and Jessie Munyon each had two for four for Mill Valley.

The Plumbers were dropped yesterday by the San Francisco Red Sox 9-7, in a practice game, but were minus four players, Cole, Buffalow, Milt Hain and De Rosa. Don Lauters hit a first inning homer for Ongaro in that game.

NELSON STARS

Bob Nelson, former Pacific Coast Leaguer, drove in two runs and scored another as he hit a double and a single for Billings-Hutchison in its victory over San Anselmo.

Jerry Daniele hit a triple and two singles for the winners. Fred Thurman relieved starter Bob Ostaggi for the Builders and credited with the win.

Losing pitcher was Russ Honeyman for the Merchants. Mike Quinn rapped two singles for San Anselmo.

Nefertiti Surprises Yachtsmen

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Nefertiti and the men in her young life are beginning to convince the doubters about their America's Cup candidacy—and perhaps disappoint the Australians.

The $300,000 lass concluded the America's Cup observation trials Saturday with a decisive victory over her chief rival, Weatherly.

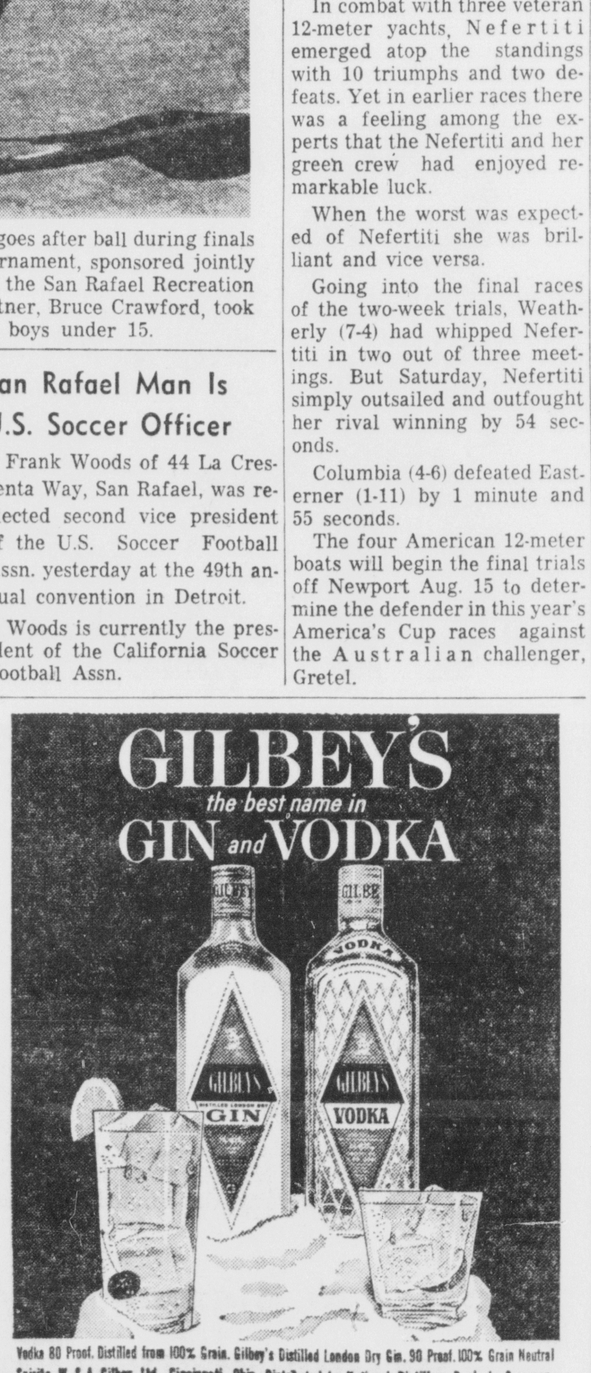

In combat with three veteran 12-meter yachts, Nefertiti emerged atop the standings with 10 triumphs and two defeats. Yet in earlier races there was a feeling among the experts that the Nefertiti and her green crew had enjoyed remarkable luck.

When the worst was expected of Nefertiti she was brilliant and vice versa.

Going into the final races of the two-week trials, Weatherly (7-4) had whipped Nefertiti in two out of three meetings. But Saturday, Nefertiti simply outsailed and outfought her rival winning by 54 seconds.

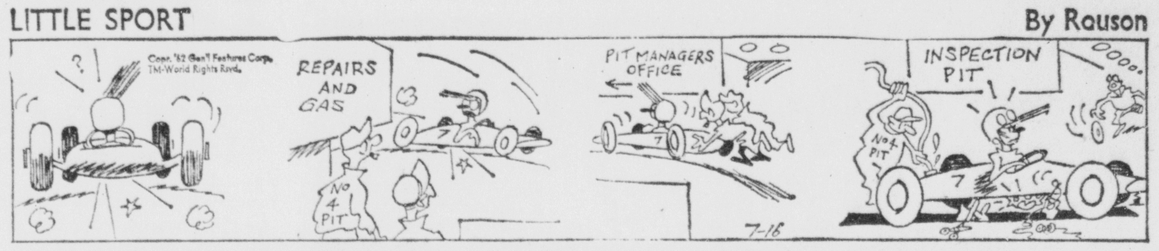

Columbia (4-6) defeated Easterner (1-11) by 1 minute and 55 seconds.

The four American 12-meter boats will begin the final trials off Newport Aug. 15 to determine the defender in this year's America's Cup races against the Australian challenger, Gretel.

PELICANS ARE DUMPED 11-0 BY S.F. NINE

The Tiburon Pelicans semi-pro baseball team was dumped yesterday by the Ellis Brooks nine from San Francisco 11-0 as the Pelicans pitching staff gave up 10 walks.

Both starter Mike Cooney and Buzz Wensloff who relieved him in the fourth inning were wild, each giving up five bases on balls. Both hurlers were credited with a wild pitch and Wensloff hit a batter. Each had only one strike out.

Ellis Brooks banged out 13 hits to only six for Tiburon. Wensloff had a double and a single, Ken Anderson had two singles, Ron Blum cracked a double and Cooney had a single.

Fred DeMartini relieved Wensloff in the eighth inning and allowed one run, but didn't walk a batter. It was the second defeat for the Pelicans.

Marin Girl Second In Adams Yachting

By ALFRED MATSON

In a battle without precedent, the two Bay Area representatives, Elva Benone, Golden Gate Y.C., and Sally Mathews, San Francisco Y.C., finished one-two in the race series determining the California entry in the Adams Trophy Race to be held Aug. 27 at the Coral Reef Yacht Club in Florida.

It was a five-race series over Saturday and Sunday and the course was off the Richmond breakwater. There were five teams entered. Besides the local ones mentioned, there were three from Southern California—San Diego, Mission Bay and Santa Barbara yacht clubs.

After the three races on Saturday, Sally Mathews was tied for third with eight points and the leader Lynn Woodward, San Diego, had 12 points; a near miracle would be needed to put the lady from Belvedere in contention. And she missed the brass ring by a niggardly one-quarter point.

In Sunday's morning race she was first and, in the afternoon hassle, Sally was leading the pack going into the last leg. But Elva Benone, trailing badly, had taken a flyer and it paid off; she crossed the finish line just 45 seconds ahead of Sally; and that was the race and the chance to enter the national championships next month. The entire program was held under near perfect conditions and with plenty of action in every race. A tip of the hat must go to the owners of the Rhodes 19 class boats that were used.

Here's how the lineup finished in the five-race series and the final points:

Elva Benone, 1st, 2nd, 5th, 4th, 1st—17½ points; Sally Mathews, 2nd, 4th, 4th, 1st, 2nd—17¼ points; Lynn Woodward, 3rd, 1st, 2nd, 5th, 4th—15¼ points; Helen Bedford, 5th, 5th, 1st, 3rd, 3rd—13¼ points; Shirley Howland, 4th, 3rd, 3rd, 2nd, 5th—13 points.

IN THE SAUSALITO Yacht Club's small boat regatta yesterday, Warwick Tompkins showed his usual wizardry to capture the Finn class race; George Haldeman was second. Gordy Nash, another perennial winner, was tops in the 110 class.

The winds made up considerably in the afternoon with the result that several of the boats capsized.

40,000 At Oakland Grand Prix

Bill Krause of Long Beach won the modified big sports car event in the Oakland Grand Prix yesterday when he averaged 92.8 miles an hour in his Tipo 61 Maserati birdcage.

An estimated 40,000 persons watched Krause cover the 38 laps of the 2.4-mile course at Oakland's new International Jet airport in the one-hour time limit race.

Bill Sturgis of Gardnerville, Nev., who was first in Saturday's qualifying event, finished three-quarters of a lap behind Krause to take second in his Cooper Monaco.

Ted Peterson of Costa Mesa, Calif., was third in a Lister Jaguar. The best time for one lap was posted by Peter Culkin of Cloverdale, who went through the traps at 150.2 m.p.h. in a Corvette-Mercedes.

CORVETTE WINNER

Joe Freitas of Fontana who won the production car qualifying race Saturday, won again yesterday in his Corvette. Don Wester of Elmonte drove his Porsche for second place in the 45-minute race, and Dave MacDonald of El Monte finished third in a Corvette.

Don Dyke of Palo Alto suffered minor injuries Saturday when his Maserati 300s overturned and caught fire during the modified race.

GRAND SLAM WINS LI'L LOOP TITLE

Bill Grey's grand slam home run with two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning gave the Little Beavers a dramatic 5-1 triumph over Locke Brothers yesterday in the playoff for the Gallinas Valley Little League championship.

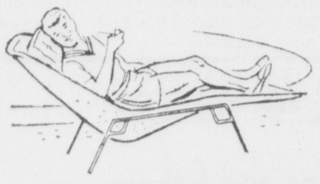

The Little Beavers had won the league's first half title while the Locke team won the second half, setting up yesterday's dramatic playoff.

Hub '9' Chalks Up First Victory

With Hamish Tyler in a dual starring role, the San Anselmo "Meats" semi-pro baseball club chalked up a 10-7 triumph over Gino Benedetti No. 2 team of San Francisco yesterday at Drake High School. It was the Meats' first win after two losses.

Tyler went the distance on the mound and aided his own cause with a key hit. Another bat star was Jim Johnston with a timely base knock.

Early Babies Linked To Smoking

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The expectant mother who smokes stands a greater risk of giving birth to a premature baby than the woman who does not smoke, according to a government-sponsored research project.

The U.S. Public Health Service reported yesterday that early findings also indicate that the infant born to a cigarette-smoking woman is likely to be smaller at birth than the baby of a non-smoking mother.

The health service released some of the "preliminary findings" of a research project now in its fourth year. It said the results so far should be "viewed with caution" because the research activities are still going on.

But it said that what has been learned so far "may prove to be promising leads for future investigation."

The research program—dealing with the connection between birth defects and events during pregnancy -- has involved more than 23,000 expectant mothers and 17,000 children, the health service said. It is being conducted by 15 medical centers and under the coordination of the service's Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness.

Dr. Richard L. Masland, director of the institute, was quoted as telling a recent House appropriations subcommittee that of the 7,500 women taking part in the smoking study, 11.6 per cent of those who smoked delivered premature babies. Among women who did not smoke, he said, 7.7 per cent gave birth to premature infants.

Masland said it was necessary to emphasize that the scientists were unable to say that smoking caused the higher incidence since "it may contribute only indirectly to prematurity by cultivating other disorders."

"But unquestionably, the woman who smokes is more likely to have a small, unhealthy baby," he added.

Among the other findings already published by the collaborating hospitals:

Unborn children may be affected by an Asian flu epidemic to which their mothers are exposed. It also was reported that in 40 per cent of the cases studied, the mother showed no symptoms of Asian flu and that it could be spotted only by a blood test.

Additional evidence was uncovered to show that premature births may be caused by an infection of the mother's urinary tract. The infection offers no symptoms and cannot be detected by routine methods. A "simple, sensitive test" to detect this type of infection has been devised.

High rates of premature births and infant death were found to be associated with "findings suggestive of inflammation of the placenta, fetal membranes, and umbilical cord." And in half of these cases, infection also was present in the vagina, cervix or both.

'Grandfather' Autos Are Due On The Road

Highway travelers will be treated to the rare site of a fleet of "grandfather" automobiles in parts of Marin and Sonoma Counties next weekend when the Bay Area Horseless Carriage Club makes its annual tour.

Owners of some 60 early century gas buggies will gather at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio Friday night early Saturday before setting forth on what was a challenging motor trip two generations ago.

Models represented will be of a vintage no later than 1915, the year which confirmed horseless carriage enthusiasts fix as terminating the "age of brass" in motordom.

Departing from Rickey's at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, the caravan will travel to Sonoma and thence to Glen Ellen. In the afternoon they will return to Rickey's, using secondary roads wherever posssible.

On Sunday the caravan will venture forth again to Petaluma, also by side roads.

The only Marin County horseless carriage member reported entering a vehicle in the tour is Richard F. Phillips of Sausalito. Phillips will drive his 1910 Model 10 Buick touring car in the caravan.

Crime Shows A Decrease In Marin

Crime in Marin County showed a 1.4 per cent decrease in 1961 under the crime rate of the previous year, according to a report issued by State Attorney General Stanley Mosk.

Mosk said the decrease was not large enough to indicate a change in the steadily increasing crime rate of the past seven years in California.

Marin accounted for 1,134 felony crimes in 1961 which resulted in 305 arrests.

The arrests, by the nine felony categories, included: homocide, two; robbery, eight; aggravated assault, 49; burglary, 67; theft, 29; auto theft, 19; forgery and checks, 57; sex offenses, 36; narcotics, 16, and all others, 22.

Standard material for mourning dresses in the 18th Century was bombazine, a combination of silk and worsted.

Miller Will Testify Tomorrow On Park

Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera) is among four congress expected to testify tomorrow at a House of Representatives rules committee hearing in Washington on the Point Reyes National Seashore bill.

Miller is author of the House version of the bill to establish a national seashore on the Point Reyes Peninsula in West Marin.

Others expected to testify at the 10:30 a.m. hearing are Rep. Wayne N. Aspinwall (D-Colo.), interior committee chairman; Rep. J. T. Rutherford (D-Tex.), chairman of the national parks subcommittee, and Rep. John P. Saylor (R-Pa.), ranking minority member of the interior committee.

Action by the rules committee could pave the way for a vote on the measure.

A similar bill sponsored by California senators Clair Engle and Thomas H. Kuchel was passed by the Senate last September.

Lab Tests Show Skunk Was Rapid

Laboratory tests have disclosed that a skunk killed last week on the old county road at Bolinas was rabid, Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, county health officer, announced today.

Dr. Albrecht said a ranch worker walking through ranch property noticed the skunk staggering about as though intoxicated. He promptly killed it and sent the body to San Rafael for examination. The animal had bitten nobody.

This was the third rabid animal discovered in Marin County so far this year, according to Dr. Albrecht. The first two were a bat in Corte Madera and a skunk which invaded a San Anselmo kitchen, both during April.

Six rabid animals had been found in the county by this time last year, according to health department records. In 1961, nine rabies cases were reported, but the record year was 1955 with 11.

Marinite Fifth In Tevis Ride

Ben Roark Jr., of Olema finished fifth yesterday in the eighth annual 100-mile Tevis Cup horseback ride, which was won by Paige Harper of Sacramento on Chief Tahmaroo.

The gold cup was awarded to Harper last night in Auburn.

Roark was ruled out of cup contention because a veterinary found his horse out of top condition after the ride over a pioneer gold trail from Lake Tahoe to Auburn.

The ride is named for Lloyd Tevis, pioneer president of Wells Fargo. His grandson, William S. Tevis of Bolinas, awarded the cup.

Woman's Stubborness Prevented Births Of Deformed Children

(Editor's Note — This the story of a woman who refused to let criticism sway her doubts about a new drug. Her refusal to approve its sale in the United States may have prevented thousands of babies from being born with deformities.)

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dr. Frances Oldham Kelsey of the Food and Drug Administration has been called a stubborn woman. She also has been called an unreasonable bureaucrat.

But assistant FDA commissioner Winton B. Rankin says the American public owes her a vote of thanks for that subbornness.

Rankin confirmed that Doctor Kelsey may have prevented "an American tragedy" by her steadfast refusal to allow the marketing in this country of a sleeping pill later linked to grotesque deformities in newborn children.

The 47-year-old drug specialist withstood a barrage of criticism before a medical investigation eventually proved that her suspicions were well-founded.

Thestory, which was related yesterday by the Washington Post, involves a drug with the chemical name thalidomide and a rare type of birth defect known as phocomelia.

Thalidomide was developed in 1954 by a West German firm but was discarded because it showed no effect on test animals. In 1958 another German firm found that it promised to be the best sleep-inducer ever —no hangover, no danger in overdosage.

Under the trade name of contergan the drug found a booming market in West Germany. It was sold in Britain as distaval, in Portugal as softenon, and in Canada as talimol.

In September, 1960, the William S. Merrell Co. of Cincinnati asked the FDA for clearance to market the compound in the United States.

The thalidomide application became the first assignment for Doctor Kelsey who had just joined FDA.

Along with the application came data claiming the drug to be safe for use. But Dr. Kelsey was not convinced. She repeatedly refused to approve the drug and her superiors backed her up.

Dr. Kelsey says there were insinuations that she was a hair-splitter, an unreasonable bureaucrat—that she was stupid. But she refused to budge from her position.

In 1961 West Germany found itself confronted by a vexing medical problem. Phocomelia, an affliction so rare that some medical dictionaries do not even list it, was becoming all too common.

Ordinarily, a victim of phocomelia is missing one arm and small rudimentary fingers grow from the stub. But the cases in Germany were worse. Some in arms or legs missing, others with three limbs and a few with none at all.

A variety of possible causes, from heredity to radioactive fallout, were considered and discarded. Then last November Dr. Widukind Lenz, a Hamburg pediatrician, conducted a study which showed that about 20 per cent of the mothers of deformed infants whom he treated had taken thalidomide. After further investigation, he found the rate went up to 50 per cent.

The drug was found to be dangerous to the unborn when taken by the mother within 20 to 40 days after conception. During this period, Dr. Lenz believes, the chances are at least two in five that the baby will be affected.

Thalidomide was removed from the market in Germany and elsewhere. But it is estimated that by the end of August the number of deformed children born in West Germany will be between 3,500 and 6,000. One of three is expected to die.

Doctor Kelsey, wife of another pharmacologist, F. Ellis Kelsey, special assistant to the surgeon general, and the mother of two daughters, 15 and 12, had this to say about her role in keeping the drug off the American market:

"They certainly thought I was unreasonable. But I didn't feel the material to back it up was very adequate.

"The company was very anxious to get the stuff on the market, but this was routine."

The whole general tenor of the criticism of her "was sort of a "'stubbornness,'" she said.

Drainage Plans Are On Agenda

Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow will ask the Corte Madera town council tonight for approval of plans and specifications and a call for bids for drainage of the town park.

The meeting at town hall will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Brandow will ask for approval of several other projects, including a call for bids on a public works pump truck.

Several planning matters are scheduled for action.

Twenty Indian head pennies apparently were the total loot of a burglar who broke into Brown's House of Hobbies, 562 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, yesterday, police reported.

A screen had been ripped and a window opened at the rear of the store. Owner Douglas G. Brown checked the merchandise and found only the coins were missing.

IN THE SHOP Mrs. Albert Harris of Belvedere has Jon Hardage of the Boardwalk Salon do a quick restyling on the bangs of the wig she will wear that evening.

READY FOR the evening out, Mrs. Harris can be assured of a perfect coiffure without further worry —beautiful hair in wig time!

CINDY FINK lives on the Belvedere Lagoon and that means sailing and swimming. She also spends summer days on the tennis court, enjoying the wind and sun. For this she keeps her hair in casual, short style above. But for after five dinner and dancing she prefers a more sauve hairstyle. The wig shown below solves the problem without fuss.

It's A Wiggy World—

EVEN AFTER a trying week leaving no time for a hairdresser appointment, Mrs. Maury Saltzman can be the poised, perfectly coiffed hostess in her Lagoon home. Yep—it's a wig. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

Once Mark Of Luxury, Now Hairpieces Prove Practical

Not since Colonial times have American women seriously considered the wig. In those days wigmakers thrived and no self respecting Founding Father was to be without one. But wiggy times actually began with the ancient Egyptians and remained popular with the Greeks and Romans. Wigs were tremendously popular in Europe in the 17th century with France leading the aristocratic mode of life.

But only the very affluent could afford to own the elegant hairpieces. In the atomic world of today fine wigs are coming within the range of many Americans, who being a rushing, outdoors-loving people, see a new practicality in them.

Marin salons offer wigs of the finest human hair costing from $130 up. Made in Germany or France, they come in shades ranging from platinum, through reds, browns, to black. The hair is usually fairly long, from bouffant to shoulder or waist length.

The hair is attached to a net lining which is well ventilated and comfortable for summer wear, and it can be washed, styled in the latest coiffure, streaked or frosted, operations usually requiring three days in the salon.

Though women for years have worn chignons, curl bits and wiglets, greater numbers are taking the advantage of this "instant coiffure."

EACH YEAR ANOTHER ITALY

Population Growth Continues As 50 Million Join The Race

By H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tick-Tick-Tick-Tick-Tick. . .

The average wristwatch beats along at 18,000 ticks an hour. In the passing of each second, it ticks five times. And in that same second, three more human beings are born.

At the present estimated rate, each year 100 million babies arrive and about 50 million people die—a yearly gain of around 50 million. Each year another Italy.

Not long before the day last fall when the Russians began loosing megaton blasts in a breach of the moratorium on nuclear testing, humankind of this earth scurried past a milestone toward which it had been moving for at least 200,000 years, perhaps a million years.

This was the moment when, suddenly, there were 3 billion of us.

Yellow men, black men, bronze, mocha, pink and white men. And women. And children. The world population had hit 3 billion—but in the very next minute, there were 190 births and only half that many deaths.

IT TOOK US all of human history to multiply ourselves to that fertility milestone. And yet, if the present compound-interest growth increase rate keeps up, we will double again in only 38 years and explode upon the 21st century, at the end of 1999, with more than 6 billion human souls alive on earth. The projected rate by that time would double us to 12 billion in only 27 years.

High in the skyscraper that houses the United Nations Secretariat, the U.N. statistical office sits behind windows affording a magnificent view—on days when the man-polluted air is scrubbed clear enough to see through — of the city (pop. density 24,697 New Yorkers per square mile).

From that office, this month, will come the official word that the humanity count—it's really an estimate, since half the births and about a third of the deaths in the world are not registered — has passed three billion.

The quarterly "population and vital statistics report" for July, which takes a year to check on the world, will contain the figure for 1961 mid-year: 3,060.8 million. That three billion is as big a human hive as this earth should hold. So will we populate other planets, send the surplus migrating to new worlds? If a rocket took off every hour on the hour, day and night, each one would have to carry 5,707 passengers. That's the present rate of world growth per hour.

THIS IS the "population explosion," which some voices of opinion now are ranking second only to control of atomic weapons as a threat to human existence. Others say it is preposterous to project the present world growth rate over a long period. It's now 1.7 per cent a year.

About two out of every three babies born at present will live long enough to have babies of their own. And at least two-thirds of all babies born each year are in Asia, Africa and Latin America, the undeveloped areas. Their birth rate has remained high and science has spectacularly cut the death rate, particularly infant mortality.

In the underdeveloped countries at least 40 per cent of the population is under 15 years of age, according to the French authority Alfred Sauvy. That's compared with 20 to 30 per cent in western countries. So the underdeveloped countries have a smaller proportion of productive workers, and the dependency load is greater on those who do work.

A COUNTRY THAT has a population growth of 2 to 3 per cent a year—as a great many of these underdeveloped lands do—must spend up to 10 per cent of its national income just to keep its living standard from going down.

Prof. Sauvy is on the population commission of the U.N. and holds the chair of social demography at the College de France. His book "Fertility and Survival: Population Problems from Malthus to Mau Tse-Tung" recently was published here. In it he discusses whether underdeveloped countries can depend on savings of their poor for national development:

"In all these countries, income is very low, often lower than $95 a year yer person; this income (or rather this produce) is seldom enough even for purely physiological needs. How then, or by what magic, can this undernourished and debilitated man renounce part of his vital food and that of his children?

Sauvy expects the tremendous spurt of population in the underdeveloped regions to continue for at least another generation and says their living standards must be improved: "It would be inhuman and dangerous to allow human beings to multiply in wretchedness."

Asia, Africa and South America between 1950 and 1957 accounted for more than 77 per cent of the estimated world increase. Some of their countries are hitting 3 and 3.5 per cent yearly increases, compared with 1.7 world average. Estimated increases to the year 2000 would give the three areas more than 5.5 billion people out of the expected world total of 6.2 to 7 billion.

THE FOLLOWING estimates show the increases for the span of years 1950-2000 (in millions); Latin America, 163-650; Africa, 199-663; Asia, 1,380-4,250.

The study of populations is called demography. What has inspired demographers to phrases like "demographic revolution" is the speed-up in the rate of population increase in this century. As Sir Julian Huxley put it: "The rate of human doubling has been doubled in the last 80 years."

Sauvy calls this sudden "rapid growth in numbers" a new factor that has come to our planet. In a few centuries the world has gone from an increase rate of 0.5 per cent to today's 1.7, a rise of more than 200 per cent. The U.N. "medium assumption" is that world population might grow at 2.1 per cent between 1950 and 1975 and almost 2.6 between 1976 and 2000. The first rate would double the populace every 33 years; the second, every 27.

To dramatize what even a steady 1 per cent rate would do, Philip M. Hauser, chairman of the University of Chicago sociology department, wrote:

"One hundred persons multiplying at 1 per cent per year, not over the period of 200,000 to 1 million years of man's occupancy of this globe but merely for the 5,000 years of human history, would have produced a contemporary population of 2.7 billion persons per square foot of land surface of the earth!"

IT HAS BEEN pointed out by those who argue that the world is easily able to support expanding populations that if you could put the world's whole three billion population into the United States, it still wouldn't be any more crowded than the Netherlands is now. Holland's population density is 916 per square mile.

But a demographer has figured that if the present rate of U.S. growth (1.8 per cent) continued steady for 800 years, there would be one person for every square foot in the country. And he added that 800 years isn't very long in a demographer's reckoning.

Through the welter of figures on the subject of population there has swirled for several decades a sometimes bitter controversy in religious groups about birth control. But the emotionalism apparently has tended to obscure major areas of agreement.

CATHOLICS, PROTESTANTS and Jews generally are in agreement that serious social and economic problems can occur. As the Rev. John A. O'Brien of Notre Dame University observed, the three groups agree on the "objectives of family planning but disagree over the methods to be used."

Students of population-increase emphasize the danger to quality.

Robert C. Cook, president of the Population Reference Bureau, a private organization, says the greatest hope now is that technology — the expansion of science that brought, in a sense, death-control and thus set off the population explosion—now can control fertility.

"Essential to this is an understanding of basic arithmetic —that numbers per se are the enemy of quality of living—that people who improvidently worship the stork doom their children and their children's children to poverty and despair."

Julian Huxley, keynoting a series in the British magazine Punch on "the crowded world," said the explosion posed the fundamental question of human destiny—what are people for?

"Surely," he wrote, "people do not exist just to provide bomb-fodder for an atomic bonfire, or religion-fodder for rival churches, or cannon-fodder for rival nations, or disease-fodder for rival parasites, or labor-fodder for rival economic systems, or ideology-fodder for rival political systems, or even consumer-fodder for profit-making systems.

"IT CANNOT BE their destiny to exist in ever larger megalopolitan sprawls, cut off from contact with nature and from the sense of human community and condemned to increasing frustrations, noise, mechanical routine, traffic confestion and endless commuting; nor to live out their undernourished lives in some squalid Asian of African village.

"Man's dominant aim must be increase in quality—quality of human personality, or achievement, of works of art and craftsmanship, of inner experience, or quaity of life and living in general. But the inordinate growth of human numbers bars the way to any such desirable revolution, produces increasing frustration instead of greater fulfillment."

He called for a world population policy, under the U.N.

It has been said that the leaders of some of the newly independent nations look with pride on their ballooning populations because numbers mean national power. But lack of economic development and skill come in too.

THE FOUR BIGGEST nations total more than half the world's population. The forthcoming U.N. report will list them, as of mid-1961, with these figures: U.S.A., 183,650,000; U.S.S.R., 218,000,000; India, 440,316,000; mainland China—well, the latest is a semi-official guess back in 1958 of 680,000,000 and some say Red China must be nearing 700 million.

The world food supply is growing at more than 2 per cent a year, and it can be upped drastically. But there is a great diversity of opinion about how much it can be increased and what top size of world population should be.

Huxley says it should be a little less than it is right now. The Catholic Digest has quoted Oxford University economist-demographer Colin Clark as saying that "with common sense development and production, the world can comfortably accommodate about 60 billion people."

A British food and population specialist, Edward Hyams, wrote in Punch that "every minute about 6 hundredweight of a finite supply of (eatable) matter is being reorganized into human bodies" and that the ultimate result is that all suitable elements at present in the earth's crust and in animals and vegetables will be converted into humanity. But he says we can—if we buckle down to it—hold our own in the food race for a long time.

The top population limit, he guesses, probably would be about 15 billion: "That limit having been reached, there is no solution short of cannibalism."

CASSINI'S ASIAN SIHN

This Laotian sihn dress by designer Oleg Cassini was introduced to fashion writers at the NewYork Couture Group's semi-annual press week. SEW SIMPLE

Small Print Sacks Make Hobo Pajama

By EUNICE FARMER

Mrs. John Hazelwood, Abilene, Tex., wins a tailor trix pressing board this week with this suggestion:

"Here's a suggestion for using the small size printed cotton sacks such as flour is packed in. When a number of these squares are sewn together, they can be made into very cute 'hobo pajamas for children. My children and their friends are delighted with them."

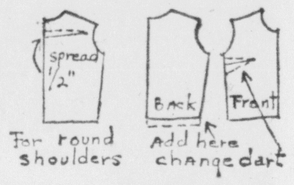

"When making muslin ruffled curtains, which way do I cut the material, lengthwise or crosswise, so the ruffles will fall the nicest?"—Mrs. F. J.

Dear Mrs. F. J.:

You must cut your material from selvage to selvage, instead of using one strip the length of the selvage. If you are making the curtains from sheets, you would still cut your strips from side to side, instead of using the length of the sheet. Your fabric will gather easier and hang much nicer when cut this way. The same rule holds true when cutting fabric for a gathered skirt. The exception would be a border print, which would have to be cut the opposite way.

A "tip" for busy housewives anad mothers from a Sew Simple fan:

"Always keep some mending near the telephone, along with your box of sewing supplies. It is surprising how much can be accomplished while you are having a telephone conversation during the day. It is a little easier to work with both hands free if you have a 'rest' for your phone."

Dear Eunice Farmer:

"You promised to tell us how to add to the back bodice measurement when you don't need the additional length in front. While waiting for your answer, may I thank you for all of the little gems of 'know-how' you have passed along to us."—Mrs. G. W. F.

Dear Mrs. G. W. F.:

There are two major reasons why the bodice back would be longer than the front. One would be poor posture, which would require one kind of adjustment. The other reason would be a figure that is not very large in the bust. You would lengthen the bodice back the required amount, then in order to make the side seams come out even, make the underarm dart a little smaller. This will drop the side front seam down the needed amount.

Your Sewing Glossary: Cotton ottoman. A heavy corded fabric with larger and rounder ribs than faille. It is woven with horizontal or diagonal ribs. Ottoman is used today for costume suits and coats. It can be laundered like any other cotton fabric.

Please send your questions to Sew Simple, in care of the Independent-Journal. Your letters cannot be answered personally. However those of the most general interest will be answered in the column.

Latest Is Ho-Daddy Gang Which Beats Unsuspecting Passers-By

Has the "Ho-daddy" fad reached your town? Ho-daddies are a new kind of teen-age horror. What will kids think up next?

You can tell a Ho-daddy as far as you can see him. His hair is elaborately waved, carefully cut and painstakingly combed. It makes him look like a sissy.

But don't be fooled. He isn't. His fingernails are manicured and polished. Don't let that fool you either. He fights with knives, bicycle chains, dart guns, pellet guns, revolvers and shotguns. He enjoys combat, as long as the odds are in his favor.

He wears a sport shirt, buttoned to the top, over it a bright vest, often red; then a sport jacket, with the middle button buttoned. His pant legs slope inward toward his ankles. His shoes are long, narrow and sharply pointed. The inside of the tip is made of steel. The heels have thick metal plates on them. The shoes are weapons. They are very expensive.

Ho-daddies run in gangs. Their most common depredation is against isolated individuals. A typical stunt is to have the smallest Ho-daddy in the gang taunt a passerby, until an argument starts. Then suddenly the whole gang swarms over the victim, beating him mercilessly. The Ho-daddies run before the cops arrive. Another stunt is to crash parties given by decent kids, and wreck everything. A gang of Ho-daddies can ruin a house in a very few minutes.

Don't try to reason with Ho-daddies. Don't argue with them. Don't let one enter your home. If you see any conflict coming with Ho-daddies, call the cops. They know how to handle them.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "At college I learned that teenage gangs are the products of slum conditions. If that is true, why punish the young gangsters?"

B.S.

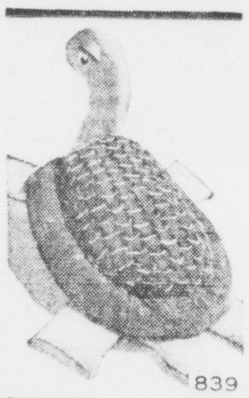

(A) We should remedy the conditions which produce gangsters. But also we must teach the individuals what they can and cannot do. We must guide, punish, direct, educate and control them. If we don't they'll never improve.

Preserve Flowers

Cut bulb flowers—iris, tulips, daffodils, hyacinths — should have the lower white portion of their stems removed because it prevents water absorption. At least slit the stems through that fibrous portion and have the water level come above it.

Japanese Delegates Shop And Tour Marin

Thirteen kimono-clad Japanese women Soroptomists from Tokyo visited Muir Woods Friday afternoon, then went shopping for dresses and handbags in downtown San Rafael.

The group, headed by Mrs. Sue Takeuchi, have been in San Francisco to attend a Soroptomist convention. They are accompanied by Dr. Masanori Iso of Tokyo, health consultant.

Serving as hosts to the Japanese delegation were Helen Gray, vice president of the Marin Soroptomist chapter; Edna Lemke, chairman of the board of directors of the Marin chapter; Esther Dearth, past president; Natalie Holly, charter president; and Janice Bash, a director.

The Japanese group watched a brief fashion show at a dress shop in San Rafael. They expressed delight with the colorful dresses and handbags but shopped for subdued colors for their own use.

The women said store displays in San Rafael are much like those in Tokyo. But they were struck by the fact that store clerks here are much more mature than in Japan. "In Tokyo," said one woman, "clerks are all young girls. Why are clerks so much older here?"

From San Francisco, the Japanese women will visit Chicago, New York, Los Angeles and Mexico before returning to the Far East.

ADMIRING THE size and beauty of a redwood tree in Muir Woods, the group of 13 Japanese Soroptimist members pause on their visit to Marin. They were escorted by officers of the Marin club. From left are Mrs. Koizumi, Miss M. Ebihara, Mrs. Y. Oinuma, Mrs. M. Onda (Miss S. Hanayagi), Mrs. Sue Takeuchi, who headed the delegation; Mrs. Robert Gray, vice president of the Marin chapter, and Mesdames U. Ishikawa and S. Shinohara. Fur stoles over their kimonos were worn in the cool air by some of the delegation. (Independent-Journal photos)

At a Saturday afternoon ceremony at St. Anselm's Church in Ross Judith Mary O'Connell, daughter of Mr. Mrs. John F. O'Connell of Kent Woodlands, became the bride of Charles (Nick) Allen of Ross.

The Rev. Damien Girard performed the double ring ceremony, for which the bride donned a white silk organza gown trimmed with Alencon lace. Its full length skirt ended in a chapel length train.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and attended by Paddy Moore, of San Anselmo her maid of honor, and Susan Smith and the bridegroom's sister, Nori Allen, both of Ross, and by Pat Hickman of Kentfield and Katy Allen and Elizabeth Ringrose of San Rafael. All wore white organza dresses with three-quarter length sleeves.

Vandals Take Food At Field

Some vandals were headed for a picnic or a good stomach ache by the amount of food stuff taken from the concession room at Albert Field in San Rafael, police reported Saturday.

Missing were five pounds of hot dogs, two dozen packages of rolls and eight packages of assorted popsickles. They also took 51 pounds of hot dogs which were left outside to spoil, police reported.

The entry was reported by Clarice Eleanor Stevens of 93 Redwood Road, Fairfax, who told police the last time that the concession room was visited was July 5. The items were taken from a freezer. Entry was gained by forcing the door, police said.

Great War Flowers Are Still Growing

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)—Poppies from Flanders Field in France still are growing in the garden of Clyde L. Boots, who lives on a farm in the Des Moines area.

He says he brought the seed to his mother when he came home from France in 1919, after the close of World War I.

He carried the seed in a capsule then used by the Signal Corps for sending messages by carrier pigeon. The current crop of blooms originated from that seed.

LONG PANTS NOW

Dennis The Menace Will Act His Age

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There's good news for Dennis the Menace next season: He can act his age.

"He won't have to wear those swaddling clothes that he's had on for three years," says Winston O'Keefe, producer of the series. "Nor will he have that slingshot sewed into his back pocket all the time. Dennis is growing up."

Jay North, who is Dennis, won't have to fudge on his age any longer. He'll be playing the role as 10 years old, which is what he really is.

Dennis has virtually been 6 for three years now. But with Jay crashing headlong toward adolescence, something had to give.

Actually, the recognition of Dennis's growth—he'll be in long pants next season—is part of long-range planning to keep the series in good health. If is succeeds, we may some day be seeing such adventures as "Dennis goes to College," "Dennis gets Drafted," "Dennis the Menace, Jr."

"We've been making some changes all along," explained O'Keefe.

"A big change was occasioned by the death of Joe Kearns, who played Mr. Wilson. Joe was a folksy kind of comedian; Gale Gordon, who replaced him, is smarter, more sophisticated. That gives us more chance for all kinds of comedy.

"When Joe was Mr. Wilson, he was retired. Thus the situations had to come out of his own vanity, his pig-headedness, etc. Gale is not old enough to be retired. We have made him a contributing editor to a magazine. This allows him to get into different fields of interest.

"We have been broadening the scope of the series, getting into more action, more slapstick. Next year we'll be going on location to San Diego, Washington, D. C., and perhaps Hawaii. If we last another season, we might even go to Europe. Imagine Dennis in Paris!"

It's frightening. But such is progress in the television jungle.

Mathmatical Education Changing All The Time

(Editor's note: This is the first of a series of four articles on the New Mathematics, which soon may be taught in your schools.)

By LOREN MacARTHUR

When does 2×2=10?

Why do we divide a circle into 360 degrees?

How can the numeral "21" stand for nine cobs of corn?

If you graduated from high school before 1958 and didn't go on to college mathematics, you probably don't know the answers.

Your childhood arithmetic textbooks were stuffed with rows of neatly aligned calculations for you to peruse and produce answers to, something on the order of an adding machine(if not with its accuracy). Your boredom was dismissed as inevitable.

A simple grasp of addition, multiplication, subtraction and division was your level; nobody expected you to think.

Nobody expected you to learn more.

You got special instruction only if your stupidity was extreme.

A professor of mathematics with a special sense of delight in creative thinking arrived in San Rafael this summer to help put a change to the type of mathematical education you were subjected to. He is Dr. John Lund, head of the mathematics department at Lassen Junior College in Susanville. He is at Dominican College teaching teachers to go back to their grammar, junior high and high schools this fall to teach the "New Mathematics."

Though you won't benefit from this new arithmetic, your children will. It is designed to keep them interested in mathematics.

Lund, however, is no avant-guard educator with progressivist chalk clutched in his fingers. He holds a doctor's degree from University of Chicago in the exacting field of classical languages. A sort of tenacious Renaissance curiosity has led him through careers with the foreign service, as a librarian, a university professor and finally as a mathematician, an interest he left as a child for something more creative.

He believes, as a true scholar, that probing intellectual study is fascinating in itself.

WHAT IS THE NEW MATH?

"We are more interested in how and why mathematics works than in just working it," Dr. Lund told the 50 nuns, priests and public school instructors gathered to hear his first three-hour lecture. "We talk more about meanings, and we look at mathematics from different points of view.

"But we won't be asking why Johnny can't add. The new mathematics is being developed by both mathematicians and educators. It will not result in the schism that exists between the advocates of progressive and fundamentalist reading methods.

"We can't lose any of the traditions of mathematics. They have been there too long to disappear. We are simply adding something else by talking more about meanings."

WHAT IS A NUMBER?

Mathematics is a science of abstraction. You can't see a number. You can tell what numbers do, but you can't define them. A number is simply an idea associated with certain groups, or sets. For example, one property common to three boys and three girls, immediately apparent to any hostess, is that they can be lined up and paired off with one another. We call this common property a number, in this case the number three.

A numeral, on the other hand, is a symbol used to represent a number, as the numeral "3" represents the number three. Many symbols can indicate a number, for example: three, 3, III, trois, 2+1 or ⅓×9. The symbol 5=2 has more texture and meaning for a mathematician than the symbol 3, just as the myriad shades of blues and greens indicate more to the artist than does one flat color.

When you write the symbol 3,621, the numerals 3, 6, 2 and 1 stand for 3,000, 600, 20 and 1. This illustrates a property of our counting system called "place value." In other words, the number represented by a numeral depends on where the numeral is in a series of numerals. A second basic property of our system is that there are only ten symbols needed to represent any number, 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9.

(Tomorrow: How other people count. What kind of books to learn the New Mathematics. Why we divide a circle into 360 degrees and why we count the way we do.)

$2.2-Million Apartment Project To Be Started Soon

Construction at Ignacio of what will eventually be a 220-unit garden apartment project costing 2.2 million dollars will start "within the next few weeks," according to Edgar T. Lindner, president of Growth Properties, developers of the project.

Lindner, in a letter to stockholders, said 32 units will be built as the first step in the development. The apartments are planned on a seven-acre site opposite Hamilton Air Force Base. They will be for base personnel and their families as well as private citizens.

The site is the only property in the immediate vicinity zoned for multiple dwellings. It was purchased by Growth Properties in January.

"We have decided on 32 units initially as this will give us an opportunity to be more certain of the complete picture," Lindner wrote.

"We will proceed, over a period of time, with the balance of the units we originally scheduled. The Hamilton Field Housing Officer has assured me again that the need is even greater than originally stated."

The firm, with offices in the Albert Building, was formed to purchase and develop Bay Area property in August 1960 by seven Marin County business and professional men and issued 50,000 shares of common stock last December.

Directors are Charles H. Allen, Robert W. Elliott, Robert C. Steele, Roger J. Darrow, Dr. Arnold A. Nutting, Edward R. Bunting, J. C. Youngberg, Edwin Berol and Dr. Matthew E. Hazeltine.

A 58-unit apartment is being developed by the firm in Alameda and a $30,000 addition is being made to their building in South San Francisco Industrial Park, Lindner said.

Japanese Housewife Becomes U.S. Citizen

The farms of North Marin are far different from that on which Kazuko Seiji grew up near Tokyo—but they are the farms of her homeland now.

Kazuko, now Mrs. John F. Millett, exchanged her Japanese citizenship for United States citizenship last month in U. S. District Court in San Francisco.

Her father, Takahasi Seiji, still cultivates the little farm on Honshu which used to be her home. Two brothers and two sisters still live in Japan.

But when Kazuko, then a seamstress for American officers, met Airman Millett at Johnson Air Force Base in Japan, and their romance led to marriage, she committed herself to a different kind of life.

Kazuko and John were sweethearts for a year and a half before they were married in 1957. In January, 1959, he was transferred to Hamilton Air Force Base. They have two daughters, Deborah Patricia, 4, and Barbara Frances, 2—very American names, Mrs. Millett is proud to point out.

Their home is at 1153-A Walton Avenue on the base.

Mrs. Millett has only one complaint about the country which is now her own—a complaint heard often from people born here: the cost of living is too high.

Four Drunken Drivers Fined

One drunken driver drew a 10-day jail term and three others were fined by Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Municipal Court Friday.

Edgar Bruce Haun, 51, of 1682 Indian Valley Road, Novato, must spend 10 days in jail, pay $166 fine and remain on one year probation for driving while drunk along Highway 101 in Novato Monday. He may not drive for one year except to visit his home in Arizona. Haun has several prior convictions.

Thomas Francis Dore, 27, of San Francisco drew six months probation and $166 fine. If he cannot pay the fine, he must spend 10 days in jail. Dore was arrested on Bridgeway in Sausalito Monday.

Louis F. Teuscher, 62, of Drake Highlands, Point Reyes Station, must pay $166 fine and remain on six months probation. He was arrested on Point Reyes Highway near Marshall Monday.

Larry Lee Rogers, 22, of San Francisco also drew $166 fine and six months probation. Rogers was arrested on Highway 101 Sunday.

Belvedere Firemen Plan Beer Bust

Belvedere men will provide their own thirsts and beer mugs at the annual beer bust of the Belvedere Volunteer Firemen's Assn. at the firehouse Friday according to A. C. Anderson Jr., president, and L. T. (Bunk) Mersereau, chief.

The event will start at 8 p.m.

The beer bust is one of three events sponsored by the association each year. The others are the root beer bust for youngsters during Fire Prevention Week in the fall and the Firemen's ball set for Aug. 17 at the Corinthian Yacht Club.

Hub School District Budget Meeting Set

A proposed final budget of $976,488 for 1962-63 will be discussed by San Anselmo School District trustees at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Isabel Cook School.

Trustees will also consider the number of class hours to be scheduled daily for kindergarten through the eighth grade during the next school year.

Rabies Clinics Will Resume Tomorrow

Rabies vaccination clinics for Marin dogs will be resumed tomorrow by the county health department.

Tomorrow's clinic will be at the Mill Valley Corporation Yard from 6 to 8 p.m. On Thursday during the same hours, a clinic will be held at the county fire station in Woodacre.

The shots cost $2. Every dog that was not vaccinated last year must receive shots before being licensed, reminded Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

Schedule for the remainder of the clinics, all with the same hours, is: July 24, Marion School, Novato; July 26, Stinson Beach; July 31, county fire station, Point Reyes Station; Aug. 2, Corte Madera Sanitary District headquarters; Aug. 6, county health department, San Rafael; Aug. 8, Marion School, Novato, and Aug. 13, Vallecito School, Terra Linda.

Fairfax Native Sons To Install

Charles Monti will be installed as president of Fairfax Parlor No. 307, Native Sons of the Golden West, at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Fairfax Women's Club.

To be installed with Monti are James D Derrig, first vice president; Thomas Little, second vice president; Thomas Kelly, third vice president; Frank Lawrence, trustee; William Abbey, inside sentinel; Ralph J. Treleven, outside sentinel and Norman Ferrari, treasurer.

The installing officer will be Mrs. Ruth Soldavini, deputy of Fairfax Parlor No. 225, Native Daughters of the Golden West. Chairman will be Frank Monti, father of the new president.

U.S. Funds Going To Three Schools

Rep. Clem Miller has notified Marin school officials that U.S. Treasury checks totalling $124,874 are being sent to three Marin County school districts.

The checks represent first payments toward the school districts' tentative "entitlements" this year under Public Law 874, which authorizes federal aid to school districts service federal employees.

The checks are going to:

San Rafael High School District, $107,929; Larkspur School District, $11,862, Reed Union School District, $5,083.

Lightning Struck Twice

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. Nellie Dinsmore drove her new automobile to the courthouse to testify about her older car being stolen by an alleged organized group. While inside the building her new auto was taken by thieves.

Larkspur Trustees Meeting Tonight

A meeting of the Larkspur school district board at 7:30 p.m. today to discuss a replacement for resigned supt. Vaughn D. Seidel will be open to the public, chairman Pauline Secor announced today.

"It will be to discuss procedures for making a selection, not personnel," she said.

At last week's board meeting Mrs. Secor had announced the meeting as a closed session.

Applies For Permit To Salvage Wreck

James E. Barnes of 95 Buena Vista Avenue, Mill Valley, has applied on behalf of Dave Needles and Son for an Army Engineers permit to conduct salvage operation on the wreck of the Pacific Enterprise between Point Arena and Arena Rock, Mendocino County.

Deadline for objections to the permit, to be made in writing to the 180 New Montgomery Street offices of the Army Engineers in San Francisco, is Aug. 13.

Cost Money To Fight Railroad, San Rafael Will Be Reminded

It costs money to fight the railroads, as the San Rafael City Council will be reminded tonight.

On the agenda for the 8 p.m. council meeting in the city ahll is attorney Boris H. Lakusta's bill for conducting the city's fight against abandonment by Northwestern Pacific Railroad of its main line through Puerto Suello tunnel—a fight the city still doesn't know whether it has won or lost. The amount: $13,453.12.

This is in addition to a $1,000 retainer paid Lakusta, a San Rafael resident, when he was hired by the city last fall.

Yet to come in are bills from J. Donovan Jacobs and J. E. Hawke, who made engineering and economic surveys on the proposed abandonment. These may add another $5,000 to the outlay.

The county board of supervisors has agreed the county will pay part of the bill. But most if it will fall on the city.

Also scheduled tonight is a recommendation by the parks and recreation commission on a site for a park in the Terra Linda portion of San Rafael. The commission turned out to be too late with its initial choice: a subdivision map on the property had already been filed.

Whether the park site is purchased this year may depend on what the council decides to do with an enexpected $80,000 tax windfall resulting from a 29 per cent hike in San Rafael assessments. City Clerk W. L. Morgan will present the new figures.

Novato School Tax Meeting Set Tonight

A public meeting will be held at the Marion School in Novato at 8 p.m. today to discuss the special school tax election on July 24, said Don Swan, chairman of the citizen's committee in support of the tax.

On May 8, the Novato Unified School District board voted to call the special election to ask voters for a 60-cent tax increase in the operating tax limit over a five-year period. The district's tax rate now totals $4.76 per 100 assessed valuation.

There's no USO in Peoria

With good reason. Peorians in our Armed Forces are not staying in Peoria. They're wherever our frontiers of peace need protecting. And that's where the USO is. Serving those who are serving us.

Besides serving those in training areas here, the USO reaches GI's in potentially explosive trouble spots—Berlin to Okinawa—where USO's spiritual uplift and homey relaxation is more needed by our troops than it was in the hot, shooting war. For, as President Kennedy said, "Winning the Peace is a Lonely Battle." Of the 2,750,000 GI's, over half are under 25 ... and away from home for the first time. For most GI's, their link with home is the nearest USO.

But more USO's are needed. That means more money. Not for Peoria. But for its son, guarding the city limits in far-off lands. Don't let him wonder—even for a minute...

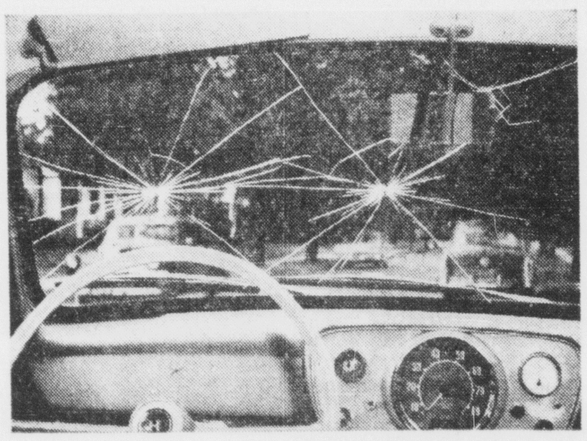

"Does Anybody Know I'm Here?"
